Korean Reds Fleeing Northward In Panic; Allies Stop Buildup

HUNDREDS RUN

U. N. Forces Move In Behind Enemy To Secure 'Substantial Gains'

COMMUNISTS FIGHT FOR DELAY IN CHORWON AREA

By Don Huth

Tokyo, Sunday, April 22. — (AP) — Allied artillery and warplanes broke up Communist efforts to reinforce their battered units on the central Korean front Saturday and sent hundreds of North Korean Reds fleeing north in panic.

Allied ground forces moved up quickly for "substantial gains," the U.S. Eighth army announced.

A heavily censored field dispatch from AP Correspondent Stan Carter said Allied forces now hold all territory south and east of the Pukhan river as well as great chunks of land to the north and west.

While fighting faded along most of the front, strong Chinese Communist resistance still blocked the Allied advance on Chorwon in the west. That enemy bastion, 18 miles north of the 38th parallel, is the junction for five road and rail networks used in the buildup of Communist forces in North Korea.

It appeared likely that a delaying action was being fought at Chorwon while the main body of Communist forces — estimated 600,000 strong — pulled back to a new mountain defense line deeper inside North Korea.

A Chinese prisoner said Red troops have been ordered to withdraw to the 39th parallel — 69 miles inside North Korea—to await reinforcements.

AP Correspondent Bill Shinn reported South Korean army interrogation of the prisoner yielded the information. There was no Allied confirmation of the report.

A retreat to the 39th parallel would form a new defense line running from Pyongyang, the Communist capital in the west, across the narrow 100 - mile - wide neck of Korea to a point south of Wonsan, port on the east coast. Wonsan has been besieged by Allied warships for 64 straight days.

The Reds still showed fighting determination to hold ridges guarding the south and southwest ap-

Tornado Hits Okaloosa Area

Farm Home Collapsed, Woman Injured; Other Building Damaged

A tornado twisted out of an early morning sky to collapse a farm home and injure a 44-year-old housewife nine miles southwest of Monroe yesterday.

Seven other buildings were damaged, one considerably. Winds in the Monroe area reached a speedy 50 miles an hour.

Hurt when the twister caved in her home was Mrs. Otto A. DeMoss. She was at the St. Francis Sanitarium here last night. Her condition was not believed serious, the attending physician siad.

Deputy Sheriff W. E. Rade, of Eros, La., said the tornado struck Mrs. DeMoss's home — in the Okaloosa Community—at 5 a.m.

The whirling winds were reported to have cut a path two miles long through a nearby forest.

The Twin Cities felt winds up to 40 miles an hour, with maximum gusts clocked at 50 miles an hour by personnel at C.A.A. weather station at Selman Field.

(Gale strength winds are those from 38 miles an hour upward to 75 miles an hour. Winds over 75 miles an hour are classed as hurricanes.)

Rainfall in the Twin City area was measured at 2.13 inches. C. A.A. said heavy showers, accompanied by hail stones in some parts of the city, began at 4:54 a.m. and continued through the day.

Register Of State Lands Announces Candidacy For La. Governor

Batron Rouge, La., April 21.—(AP)—Register of state lands Lucille May Grace today announced her candidacy for governor, the first woman ever to seek Louisiana's highest office.

Miss Grace, 50, made her announcement at a press conference in her home in suburban Baton Rouge. She was surrounded by her immediate family and employes of the state land office, which she has headed since 1931.

"This announcement is made at this time," she said in a written statement, "on the urgent advice of large numbers of my friends throughout the state so that there can be no doubt of my candidacy for governor."

Secretary of state records show no woman ever has qualified for election as governor in Louisiana.

After reading the prepared statement aloud, Miss Grace handed reporters copies of it, biographical data and printed campaign stickers and cards.

One sticker showed a figured sun bonnet being tossed into a ring and bore the legend: "Lucille May Grace for governor."

Miss Grace's husband, Fred C. Dent, Sr., Baton Rouge businessman, and her 13-year-old son, Fred, Jr., helped distribute the literature. Young Dent, a student at Georgia Military Academy, near Atlanta, Ga., flew home for the conference.

Mis Grace's mother, Mrs. Fred J. Grace, was also present. Miss Grace was appointed register in 1931, when her faher died in office, and, the following year, be-

Hungarians Consent To Release Vogeler

By Endre Marton

Budapest, Hungary, April 21. — (AP) — The Hungarian government announced today it has agreed to release American businessman Robert A. Vogeler, sentenced 14 months ago to 15 years in prison on charges of espionage and sabotage.

A brief communique from the Hungarian foreign ministry said the release of the 39-year - old American had been arranged through negotiations with the United States legation in Budapest. But a spokesman for the ministry would not say whether Vogeler had yet been freed.

Vogeler, who had worked for some time in Communist-ruled Hungary as assistant vice - president and central European representative of the International Telegraph and Telephone Company, was sentenced Feb. 21 along with a British associate, Edgar Sanders, who was sentenced to 13 years in prison. There was no indication as to whether the release of Sanders has been agreed to or discussed.

(Previous negotiations between U. S. diplomats and the Hungarian government broke down last June, after premature press reports said they were near success. The Hungarian government was said at that time to be demanding as ransom the return of the ancient crown of St. Stefan, 1,000-year-old symbol of Hungary's sovereignty, which was seized by the Allies during the war. It is believed now to be somewhere in western Germany.

(Other reports said there had been a proposal to swap Vogeler for Valentin Gubitchev, Soviet UN employe convicted with Judith Coplon in New York of espionage, but U. S. authorities denied this.

(Vogeler's pretty Belgian - born wife, Lucille, has been in Vienna, Austria, where she said she would remain until her husband's release. She waged a year-long fight to get the U. S. government to increase its efforts in Vogeler's cause. When Secretary of State Dean Acheson was in London last May, she flew there and received assurances that every-

EDITORS ATTACK NEWS BLACKOUTS

Charge Government Attempting To Suppress Facts To People

Washington, April 21.—(AP)—The American Society of Newspaper Editors (A. S. N. E.) heard today there is "appalling evidence" that government officials are trying to withhold news from the people.

The society's committee on freedon of information, headed by James S. Pope of the Louisville Courier-Journal, reported there is a growing trend toward "arrogant suppression of news" and added:

"We editors have been assuming that no one would dispute this premise: That when the people rule, they have a right to know all their government does.

"This committee finds appalling evidence that the guiding credo in Washington is just the opposite: That it is dangerous and unwise to let information about government leak out in any unprocessed form."

The Pope committee report was one of the highlights of the final day of the society's annual convention. In other activities:

Joint Chiefs Will Explain Differences With M'Arthur

By John M. Hightower

Washington, April 21. —(AP)— The defense department announced today it will present to congress "an analysis of the basic differences which exist" between the joint chiefs of staff and Gen. Douglas MacArthur on Far East strategy.

The statement put the defense department on record as stressing that in its opinion "basic differences" do exist between the joint chiefs and Gen. MacArthur. The general told congress Thursday that he understood that "from a military standpoint" the joint chiefs had shared his views on taking stronger measures against Red China.

This was the second time that the defense department has spoken out formally in the controversy between the general and the Truman administration. On the first occasion, Thursday night, the department stated that

THREE GROUPS IN REGULATION

Price Stabilization No. 7 Affects Cafes, Groceries, Consumer Goods

Three large groups of retail establishments — restaurants, groceries and consumer goods outlets which are subject to ceiling price regulation 7—face deadlines for compliance with office of price stabilization regulations on April 30.

A reminder of the deadlines came today from Eugene W. Bryson, acting district director for the OPS in Shreveport.

Here is the way each of these types of establishments is affected: Restaurants, soda fountains and other food and drink establishments—By April 30 they must file base period statements of food cost per dollar of sales with their district OPS office.

Grocers—Must have their ceiling prices in effect by April 30. Also, by April 28 they must notify OPS what category, based on 1950 gross sales volume, they are in: Independent store with less than $75,000, independent with $75,000 to $475,000, non-independent with less than $375,000 or a retail store, independent or otherwise, with $375,000 or more.

Sellers of CPR 7 items--Must file pricing charts by April 30. Many merchants not originally affected by regulation 7 now are affected. About 15 items were placed under the regulation two weeks ago. Sellers of the new items must be in compliance by April 30, along with those originally affected, Bryson said.

Items under regulation 7 now include musical instruments, radio and television sets, phonographs and records, housewares, garden tools, light hardware, some paper products, silverware, chinaware, glassware, jewelry, watches, clocks and other items. Wearing apparel, floor coverings, furniture, specialty shop items and certain other merchandise have been under the order since it was first issued.

Merchants should send their price lists to the district office of price stabilization, 1007 Texas avenue, Shreveport, La.

If you want to keep small scatter rugs from slipping, sew some old rubber jar rings to the underneath corners; the rings should help to anchor the scatter rugs down.

Jet Crashes Near Hollywood Hills

Encino, Calif., April 21.—(AP)—A jet aircraft crashed near an exclusive Hollywood hills residential district today and started a brush fire which raged out of control.

International Airport said the plane was a north American F-86 Sabre being tested prior to delivery to the air force. The pilot radioed the field shortly before the crash that he was bailing out at 30,000 feet over the Santa Monica mountains. He radioed his plane was out of control due to technical difficulties.

The pilot was expected to float down somewhere in the San Fernando valley.

The crash occurred in the Mulholland drive district of Encino, where many film notables live. The plane burst into flames near a reservoir. No homes were damaged by the crash.

Henry Walleck, a lawyer who lives nearby, said he heard the plane's engine conk out as the ship soared over his house. Seconds later, Walleck related, the craft plunged into the hillside and a tower of smoke billowed skyward.

Whitney Says Intelligence Failed To Warn M'Arthur

By Don Whitehead

New York, April 21.—(AP)—An aide to General MacArthur said today as far as he knew no one had the slightest idea at the time of the Wake Island conference that Red China was preparing to enter the Korean war.

Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney issued this statement:

"As far as I know, neither the state department nor higher intelligence agencies of the government had the slightest evidence to warn of such a decision.

"Certainly, no such warnings were given General MacArthur. To the contrary, all appeared to discount the possibility of such intervention at that stage."

Whitney's statement came as a reply to questions raised by a New York Times story from Washington.

This story said administration records disclosed that MacArthur had assured President Truman at the Wake Island conference last October that he did not believe the Chinese would intervene — or that they were a threat.

The story also implied that General MacArthur had badly underestimated the fighting ability of the Chinese.

The Times story gave a detailed report of the Wake Island meeting last October 15 and described MacArthur as being so confident of victory by Thanksgiving that he was willing to release by January (1951) some of his best troops for duty in Europe.

The report immediately kicked up stormy reaction in the now bitter dispute between MacArthur and Mr. Truman over Asia policy.

Republican House Leader Martin (Mass.) said here attempts to "smear" MacArthur as a military leader would not succeed.

"I understand," Martin said, "that certain groups in the administration are trying to smear General MacArthur's record, but they won't get away with it."

House Speaker Rayburn (D.-Texas) said in Washington the Times' account was "no news to me."

But Whitney declared there were no stenographic notes taken at the conference and part of it was a secret meeting between only MacArthur and the president.

The implication seemed to be that any detailed report of the Wake Island meeting could come only from President Truman, himself.

The Times story, among other things, said MacArthur had apologized to the president for any embarrassment caused by their differences over administration policy toward Formosa. And it said MacArthur and Mr. Truman had reached accord on the "necessity of adhering to policies made in Washington."

Whitney issued his statement as the general rested at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel from the thunderous welcome yesterday by an estimated 7,500,000 people.

He said: "At the time of the Wake Island conference, as far as I know, no one had the slightest idea that such a decision of intervention would be made by Red China.

"As far as I know neither the state department nor higher intelligence agencies of the government had the slightest evidence to warn of such a decision. Certainly, no such warnings were given General MacArthur. To the contrary, all appeared to discount the possibility of such intervention at that stage.

His reference to "all" would include General Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, who was present at the meeting.

(It is a matter of record that on Sept. 30, 1950, Red China's Premier Chou En-Lai said China would not "supinely tolerate seeing neighbors savagely invaded by imperialists." Chinese Nationalist sources predicted on Oct. 4 the entry of Chinese Reds into the war.)

Reporters were unable to question the general directly about points raised by the Times story. Questions were submitted to Whitney and he issued his statement later.

Whitney did not make any reference to a part of the story which implied MacArthur had grievously miscalculated the combat efficiency of the Chinese Reds.

The Times report had this to say:

"President Truman, as the ten conferees sat in an aviation hut, asked General MacArthur about the possibilities of Chinese or Russian intervention.

"General MacArthur said that he saw little chance of this. But he added that if there had been such intrevention in the first two months of the war, it would have meant victory for the Communists.

"He went on to say that he no longer feared their entry into the war, and that the United Nations forces were now stronger. The Chinese had 300,000 men in Manchuria with not more than 125,000 along the Yalu river.

"About 50,000 or 60,000 could cross the river, he believed, and they had no air force. If they tried to attack toward Pyongyang, the troops would be slaughtered, General MacArthur said."

If this report is accurate—and it has not yet been challenged—then it means that MacArthur underestimated the ability of the Chinese to move troops south from the Yalu river.

It would mean that MacArthur [illegible] most expected only 50,000 or 60,000 Chinese to confront his army — when in fact the Reds were able to hide more than 250,000 troops in the north Korean hills.

And, if true, it would explain in part why the United States 8th army and tenth corps were defeated by the Chinese Reds in late November.

The Times story said that MacArthur and Mr. Truman reached a harmonious understanding on Formosa after discussing the issue.

Last August, Generl MacArthur had written the veterans of foreign wars that he favored occupation of Formosa as a vital defensive island in the Pacific.

His letter aroused a controversy at the time because the Truman policy was to "neutralize" Formosa and prevent its fall to the Reds pending a final decision on the island's future by the United Nations.

The Times said Mr. Truman told MacArthur that non - occupation of Formosa would convince the people of Asia the United States had no imperialistic designs. And it added that McArthur apologized for embarassing the president after he said he now understood Mr. Truman's position.

Need No 'Help' Of Red China

One positive, stable element that can be injected into the troubled Far Eastern situation is formal peace with Japan. Consequently the newest Japanese mission of John Foster Dulles is of the highest importance.

There is no question Dulles went to Tokyo at this particular time to reassure Japan that General MacArthur's dismissal does not mean a change in U. S. policy there.

The Japanese have revered MacArthur as if he were a sort of substitute emperor. In their curious feudal psychology he was perhaps just that. Certainly he symbolized the power of the United States and stood for security against threats of all kind.

Certainly, too, MacArthur's conduct of the occupation was superior. It was without major incident. It reflected solid understanding of Japanese problems in their full Asiatic setting. It was virtually a model.

But in any event, with luck it was destined to end in the next six months or so. For the U. S. is hopeful a Japanese treaty may be concluded by that time. Hence the job now is to convince the Japanese the treaty project will go forward with dispatch—along lines already set—and to maintain MacArthur's successful occupation policies in the interim.

Dulles is probably better fit than almost any American to offer the needed reassurances at this moment. He has done an outstanding job in preparing for the Japanese treaty. Quietly and efficiently he has sketched out the basic features of the proposed pact and has won substantial acceptance of these terms from the Japanese and the other Pacific powers concerned.

It remains now to cast this work into formal documents which can be presented for ratification by the victors and vanquished. Any substantial delay would rob this country and its Pacific allies of the constructive initiative that, thanks to Dulles, they have been able to exhibit on this vital problem.

The United States has rejected a British proposal that Red China be consulted on the peace treaty. Britain was merely taking its standard view that, since the Communist regime is the actual ruling government, it would be "unrealistic" to conclude a Japanese pact without hearing Red China's attitude on it.

But in fact it's the other way around. It is wholly unrealistic to invite the Communists' participation in treaty talks at any stage. Enough is known of Red tactics by now to appreciate that in this or any other negotiation their aim would be solely to disrupt and delay and undermine.

Mao Tse-tung has done practically nothing to warrant his being taken seriously as a responsible leader among the family of nations. Whatever his purposes he has behaved like a military adventurer. On the rare occasions when his representatives have joined in international discussion, they have made blatant propaganda noises bearing no relation to the utterances of sincere statesmen. Mao doesn't belong at the peace table.

The United States seems well advised to proceed with treaty arrangements with no thought of opening them to the destructive devices of the Communists. The goal here is peace with Japan. Efforts to entangle Dulles' fine work with the issue of our recognition of Red China can only obscure that objective.

MacArthur's Speech

It will be said by those who judge impartially that General MacArthur carried the whole Far Eastern controversy to a level of the highest statesmanship.

He did more than that. He brought the issues up to the dignity of man, to decency, common sense, and logic in a manner that could only be accomplished through the personal dignity of this particular man.

It will be hoped—though probably it is too much to hope for—that people of Washington who have been distinguished thus far in this controversy chiefly by their pettiness, their lack of personal dignity and by ignorance of the meaning of such phrases as "the dignity of man" will alter their course; that in whatever replies or comment they make they will try at least to approach the level set by General MacArthur. A rash of misleading statements, half statements, half truths and untruths—such as this nation has been flooded with by Washington anti-MacArthur forces—would only bring more disgust from a people who already have uttered protests running into the millions over the personal tradegy needlessly brought to a man who places God and country above all else, and over the terrible tragedy which this course may portend for the nation itself.

A recognition of the dignity of MacArthur himself, and an effort to simulate it, will do more to open the gate to future national security than could be accomplished by armed forces if they could dominate every sector of the globe.

George E. Sokolsky:

THESE DAYS

STAND WE MUST TAKE

Mrs. Emily M. Bullitt writes the editor of the "Louisville Courier-Journal" about me as follows:

"The other night Mr. Sokolsky riddled our government with charges of inefficiency, cunning and a program red to the teeth. Not content with attacking the present regime, he encompassed the past 18 years.

"This is a free country. We have chosen our leaders. We have free speech. Just how far one may go in attacking his country in time of extreme danger I do not know. There is such a thing as treason. People have been hanged for it."

Yes, people have been hanged for many things and burned at the stake and tortured. But that never only meant that one person was hurt, but the question of truth remained.

I did not make World War II nor did I compose the compromises of Teheran and Yalta. At most I can report them and their consequences. But even if I did not report them, the consequences would be the same. There are 60,000 casualties in Korea who are witnesses to those consequences.

Someone is to blame for the Korean war. There is a long history of communism in China, at least 30 years of it. I know many of those men, having seen them grow up from schoolboys to fanatical marxists. The state department has called them "Agrarian reformers," but they were marxists, their leaders were trained in Russia and whoever says it differently is not telling the truth.

It does no good to try to suppress the truth to save anyone's political skin. What we need to save is our country and our civilization.

Our civilization has been developing for some 6,000 years around the hard core of revealed natural law. Really, Mrs. Bullitt, it would matter little if I were hanged; the natural law will survive little folks like us, who may desert the truth to serve our convenience and necessity. No extreme danger faces our country except the danger that our people have departed from our traditions and have deserted their God for a life of ease and softness.

You worry about my speaking of "inefficiency, cunning and a program red to the teeth." This is my business. For instance, I would like to know why we need to have the inflation through which this country is now passing when the government is completely in control of the movement of currency and has the power to control the prices and wages.

Look at the slow motion of control. Now, I do not advocate a controlled economy, being a good, one-fashioned 19th century liberal, but it has been voted that we are to have a controlled economy. Actually what we have is anarchy, an economy controlled neither by the law of supply and demand nor by government fiat, but by compromises which queeze our people between high cost of living and high taxes.

Would you say, Mrs. Bullitt, that I should not report about these matters or should I revel in all the tantrums of commissions and fixes and deals and trades which give to our era the title of "the big fix"?

I hope that partisanship does not blind any of us to the moral nihilism into which we have drifted. This Nihilism is marked not

Notebook

New York, April 21.—(AP)—The firing of General Douglas MacArthur has had one unusual impact on the American economy. It has made it harder for a man to make a living impersonating Harry S. Truman.

This is on the word of Irving Fisher, 66, probably the president's most successful stage double. For more than five years Fisher, a veteran actor, has kept the wolf from his door by portraying Truman in Broadway shows and at club and convention entertainments.

But the MacArthur episode—a big political headache to the president—is a bigger pain in the pocketbook to his double.

"This whole fuss is murdering me," complained Fisher.

His chief beef: Since the dismissal of General MacArthur no organization any longer seems to want to pay money to see him give his funny imitations of Truman.

Fisher currently portrays the president in a brief walk-on finale in "Call Me Madam," a musical starring Ethel Merman as a lady diplomat. Ordinarily he also averages about eight outside club dates a month in the same role.

"But every outside job I had has disappeared," Fisher lamented. "Every booking I had clear up to next June has been cancelled in the last few days. What's hap-

Thurman Sensing,

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

In December, 1950, the meat ration in Great Britain was reduced to 10 and one-third cents worth per person per week—the lowest it has ever been. This in the sixth year of socialism. What would we think if we had to go to the butcher shop and get our week's supply of meat with ten and one-third cents.

Now there is some question as to whether they will be able to maintain this ration. There is a possibility it will have to be reduced o seven cents worth per person per week.

So far as meat is concerned, the British only have food for thought.

There is also food for thought for us here in America as we view this situation. There are those among us now who are either so dumb or who love state control so much that they are talking rationing of meat!

Will we listen to the advocates of controls and rationing in our own country? You would not think so; you would think we have too much sense for that. But the British people are not dumb—and look what a mess they're in!

The great objective of the Socialists has been to hold down the cost of living. Well, it's possible for a person to hold the cost of living to zero—if he is willing to starve to death in the process!

Consider this dispatch which I have just received from London:

"All the world wants to sell us food—meat, eggs, butter. We're in a similar situation to the low-caste Indians who starve in the midst of plenty. The main difference is that they are too conservative to eat any food other than rice, while our state bulk-buyers are so obsessed with a rising cost of living that they refuse to pay today's prices and so deny us the means of living."

All the buying of meat, both at home and abroad, since the Socialists came into office in Great Britain, has been done by the government—what they call "bulk-buying." The government subsidizes these rationed foods, and in order to keep within the budget, cannot pay more than a certain amount for them. If the price the government offers the seller is not accepted—then the people of Britain just do without! As a result, the people of Britain are "starving in the midst of plenty."

One would think the British would not put up with such a life—with such restrictions and regulations and hardships. It simply shows how a people, once having accepted socialistic state control, become so entangled in its web that there seems to be no recovery.

My correspondent goes on to say, "The challenge of our time is surely how to become a strong nation again—strong not only in arms, but also in health. The blunders of inexperienced state bulk-buyers can only be remedied if the job of getting us meat is swiftly handed back to the meat trade. But how much longer must we wait for this daydream to come true?"

The only hopeful sign is that the people of Britain are still struggling. There is a great signing of petitions among the housewives to turn the meat trade back to private enterprise. Parliament voted down a resolution o the Socialists the other day to reduce the cheese ration from three ounces to two ounces per person per week—though that vote won't produce the cheese!

But the only hope for the British—and let's not overlook the lesson here in the United States—is to get rid of state control. For their experience during the past six years makes it very clear that the inevitable result of socialism is bungling and wastefulness and inefficiency and a level of mediocrity or all. This is no longer a matter of opinion; it is a clearly demonstrated fact—and no amount of argument can change it.

In Washington With

BASCOM TIMMONS

A Harvard professor came to Washington recently to hold a seminar on labor reporting with a number of newspapermen whose specialty is labor news. They included representatives of the press associations and a number of newspapers and magazines. He thought he could suggest improvements in the handling of news about organized labor, which is highly important in these times of emergency.

The meeting broke up after a full evening of discussion. When asked how it went, one of the top labor reporters said:

'Well, I think we taught the professor something."

Probably no group is better qualified to inform anybody on the ins and outs of organized labor. These reporters deal with the most unpredictable group in Washington—the labor leaders themselves. President Truman will confirm that statement, for he has been left holding the bag, despite the consideration he has shown for organized labor.

If a real emergency should develop tomorrow, with the United States at war or actually threatened with it, neither he nor the reporters could predict what labor's reaction would be. Possibly, neither could the labor leaders, as evidenced by the existing crisis over wage stabilization.

From recent developments, it seems inevitable that come what may, organized labor will demand a voice in everything that goes on in the defense ffort, and that includes production, prices wages and financing. That would seem to be the purpose of the delay, resembling a senate filibuster, over the set-up of the national advisory board on mobilization policy, which has now been marking time for two months, while representatives of labor refuse to agree to various procedures suggested for the wage stabilization board. But that is only part of the labor strategy.

The attitude of the united labor policy committee, composed of representatives of A. F. L., C. I. O. and the railroad unions—John L. Lewis is standing aloof as usual—as expressed by one labor spokesman is that labor is determined to have just as big a voice in the defense program as any other group. Since the national advisory board includes representatives of industry, agriculture and the public, this seems logical, but the approach of the U. L. P. C. to achivement of its aim is a little baffling, which is one of the reasons that labor coverage is a tough assignment.

Labor's real target is Charles E. Wilson, former president of General Electric and now director of defense mobilization as well as chairman of the national advisory board. To get things moving, President Truman gave him an unprecedented grant of power, enabling him to override most actions of the board, which is merely advisory.

Chief interest of labor leaders is wage stabilization. They quit the board in February in protest against a ceiling on wages. Now a labor-management board is trying to get together on the manner in which wage disputes shall be handled, a disagreement carried over from World War II, when labor leaders claimed that wages never kept pace with the spiralling cost of living, and usually won its case before the old war labor board.

So far there is disagreement, which may continue until the hurriedly enacted defense act of last year expires on June 30. Manage-

UNIVERSAL MILITARY TRAINING

Editors, in very large majority, continue to favor the senate plan authorizing initiation of UMT by the president when a continuing flow of soldiers through the draft is no longer immediately necessary. But a small minority continues to oppose UMT as un-Democratic peace-time conscription.—Opinion appears about equally divided on whether house postponement of UMT "for later study" is due more to a general feeling of lessening crisis or to the pressures from people opposing the program. Barring another swing in national "crisis sentiment" majority opinion is doubtful that this session of congress will authorize a UMT plan.

Miami (Fla.) Daily News (Dem.): "This is an era of confusion in our rearmament program. Small wonder then that the house passed an utterly unrealistic draft act extension. It postponed for 'later study' the universal military training program which Bernard Baruch calls an insurance policy against World War III, or assurance of an earlier victory if World War III comes. . . . The senate had such counsel in mind when it passed an earlier draft extension which provided for a UMT system after the need for the draft is over."

Philadelphia (Pa.) Bulletin (Ind.): "The earlier action of the senate reflected the sense of the emergency then prevailing. General Marshall's views were listened to attentively by the senate committee, and the senate as a whole followed most of his recommendations. But when the general came to give the same advice to the house a few weeks later he found to his dismay a more complacent atmosphere prevailed. The measure as passed by the house shows this in the raising of the draft age, and especially in the very much watered down version of UMT."

Chicago Tribune (Ind.): "It is clear that the house, on this issue, is closer to the sentiments of the people—much closer than the senators, who either have not been reading their mail or who, having read it, were too timorous to buck the administration. The recent Easter recess gave members of the house an opportunity to get home and find out what their constituents were thinking. They returned to Washington with a knowledge of the people's convictions, and the shelving of UMT resulted. . . . In theory, the measure has been shelved for study during the coming six months. More probably, it has been killed."

Kansas City (Mo.) Star (Ind.): "Congressional opponents of UMT are against it because they have been frightened by the volume of letters from parents hoping that somehow their young sons can avoid devoting a period of their lives to national service. The mothers and fathers who feel that way had an influence . . . far out of proportion to their voting strength. . . . It is a case of the minority . . . being more active than the majority. . . . Eight times since 1942 the American Institute of public opinion has made surveys . . . on the UMT proposal. The number found to be in favor of it has never been less than 63 per cent."

Indianapolis (Ind.) Star (Ind.-Rep.): "The president says his opponents want a powerful defense system but don't want UMT. We had the most powerful defense system in the world in World War II and we didn't have UMT. We don't need it now to build up our armed forces. . . . The Star be-

New York Day By Day

New York—A pretty gal winding up for a baseball pitch is something I studiously avoid like drunks on a pheasant shoot and elephant stampedes. So I declined "best-dressed" Maggi McNellis's bid to escort her to Quaker City the other day to have lunch with Philadelphia's Athletics and its Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Jimmy Dykes, capable successor to illustrious Connie Mack, just told me how smart I was. Because Maggi "pitched" three hardcore baseballs from the dais into the audience at the luncheon's climax. Whoever caught these spericals got season passes for the A's ball park. Poor Ferris Fain wasn't looking when Maggi let go her first wild one. It "beaned" the star first baseman on the back of his head, causing Manager Dykes to moan: "For the rest of the season, if he recovers, Fain will be safer playing first sack in slugging match ball games, than he might be sitting anywhere near Maggi with a misguided missile in her hand."

Short orders — Maria Riva, daughter of glamour grandma Marlene Dietrich, has been fraternizing with Nazis. Well, CBS Nazis, anyway. She was overhead coaching actors to sound like SS men when they performed with her on Monday night's "Studio One." . . . Edgar Vail, the dashboard clock tycoon who's frequently my jovial nightlife crony, reminded me that last Friday the 13th was his birthday and his luck has held out for years. "As Jack & Charlie's oldest living customer, who started drinking when '21' Club was a speakeasy in Greenwich Village," Ed jests, "I have yet to celebrate my first ulcer." . . . Wendy Barrie's 13th luck was contrary. The gabby queen of ABC had her regular Friday night video time changed to 8 o'clock at the last moment—and current poll ratings prove lots of folks couldn't find her.

Reverse and canter—Jockey Eddie Arcaro strolled through Radio Row the other day to fill in some idle moments of his 10-day suspension from Jamaica track and emerged with two new jobs. Chancing upon maestro Sammy Kaye, who was tuning up his musicians for the Kreisler Bandstand show, Eddie asked: "How's that filly?" In the horse-trading conversation that followed Arcaro wound up promising to ride Kay's unraced two-year-old Lead a Band in Jamaica's Rosedale stakes on May 2 and in the Kentucky Derby next year. That's if the daughter of Swing and Sway out of Purple Dawn maintains the pace she's displayed training on Garden State turf.

Dream sequence—The Art Students League's annual costume ball tonight has as its theme "Come as a Dream." So a well-known bra manufacturer enterprisingly hired five of Manhattan's most pulchritudinous models to attend, representing an overseas GI's dream of undie photos in the rotos. I suspect this spirited soiree will also attract to the Waldorf ballroom this evening an extra sprinkling of lads "costumed" as New York cops.

Unpardonable—Bill Weber has had lots of excitement in his years behind movie cameras, but none worse than his experience in Huntsville Penitentiary. He was shooting a story about four Texan convicts who escaped from behind bars by forging the governor's signature to phony pardons. Prison guards, townspeople and trusties played bit roles for unique filming, which proceeded merrily until a lull when Weber let his gaze—and mind—wander.

After studying faces of some desperadoes in his cast, Bill thoughtlessly remarked to a uniformed sentry nearby: "What a murderous - looking bunch. Bet any one of them would slit his family's throats."

The guard stared at Weber with obvious fury, turned and walked away. It suddenly occurred to the lensman that he had addressed himself to an "acting" guard. On inquiry, Weber learned that this particular trusty was serving a life sentence—for carving up a houseful of relatives.

Fluffy fone—Charles Sanford, the musical director, presumes someone will eventually get around to a book full of early TV fluffs. Until then his favorite will be that of an actor in a recent episode. Suspense surrounds an incoming phone call to nail down a fictional $200,000 deal. The excitement became so real for the actor, that when the phone rang he grabbed the receiver upside down and put the mouthpiece to his ear. Kept it there all during the closeups, too embarrassed to correct matters.

Flip flipper—Capt. Willy Jensen, a seagoing co-pilot with whom I took turns at the helm aboard Gen. Robert Wood Johnston's "Gerda" in last season's Newport-to-Bermuda race is the sort of bucko whose tough shell can rarely be pried open for a yarn without a

During the war, Captain Willy recently unfolded, while at the wheel of an air force crash boat off California, he wondered what oddity caused hundreds of seagulls to powerdive and scrap with one another over a lonely object. He steered toward it and his curiousity was rewarded with the spectacle of a mammoth sea lion squatting on the surface. It clutched a huge fish under its left flipper, bit chunks out of the victim, playfully flipped them into the air and made happy noises while the birds battled for the free lunch.

Last autumn, while piloting General Johnson home from some angling in Nova Scotia waters, Jensen sailed right by a floatsam fortune in ambergris. pened to the country's sense of humor anyway?"

The fact he himself is a lifelong Republican makes the situation only more ironic to him. If a Republican no longer can earn a living by imitating a Democrat, how confused can the times get? What can a man count on?"

"My family have been Republicans for generations," he sighed. "Why, my grandfather Fisher used to live next door to Abraham Lincoln out in Illinois.

"I guess it just goes to show that there really is no business quite like show business."

And another thing. The audience used to break out in surprised applause when he strode out on the stage, smiling and gesturing like President Truman.

"Now," said Fisher, "the ladies siss me. You know, ladies don't hiss—they siss. Like this—sissssss. And the men? A lot of them boo me."

When he walked along Broadway, many strangers—startled at his strong facial resemblance to the president—used to smile and give him a friendly, "Hi Harry!" Not so much today.

They shout, "Why did you fire Mac?" and they demand, "What are you guys trying to do down in Washington anyway?"

"I can't understand it," said Fisher, "The things they say—why, you'd think I really was Harry."

The actor has impersonated the president so long he always calls him by his first name. He first casually imitated Truman in a circus saints and sinners show more than five years ago.

"Nobody ever even had mentioned before that I look like him," he recalled. "But that's all I've been doing in the theater ever since."

Incidentally, impersonating Harry S. Truman has grown into a small but steady industry.

"I know at least three or four other men who look more like him," Fisher said modestly. "But I have the ability to make myself look like him."

This came as the result of a painstaking study of the Truman facial movements and gestures.

"I've got all his mannerisms down pat—his choppy movement of the left hand, his grin, his jaunty walk," said Fisher. "He's got something of a bigger stomach than I have. So I just stick out my stomach and walk semi-stifflegged. That's Harry.

"He's sure of himself. Right or wrong, he's sure of himself. . ."

Fisher sighed again and said wistfully:

"That's a good way to be. But right now Harry has knocked the props out from under me."

He feels everything will be all right again when the MacArthur controversy dies down. But he wishes his fellow Republicans would quit talking about impeaching Harry Truman.

"What are they trying to do—ruin my business entirely?" he said. "You can't make a career out of impersonating an unemployed president."

only by the acceptance of corruption which would have shamed another generation and stirred anger among our people, but also by a lack of personal dignity and propriety even in high places.

We shall, of course, not live long enough to know whether your judgment is correct, or mine. History has its own curious way of visiting the errors of one generation upon its grandchildren, just as the accumulations of one generation are often enjoyed by another—and are often wasted and destroyed by another.

When a generation shows inadequate respect for natural law, for the laws of God; when adultery becomes a vogue and murder a syndicate, and when children teach their parents, and those who manage the state are not ashamed of corruption—then it is not too courageous to cast aside convenience and to protest and be counted.

You may say that I take myself and my work too seriously. Yet, since I was a boy at college, three generations of youth have been to war. Throughout the world there is a struggle between those who believe in God's natural law and those who believe in Marx's dialectical materialism. In this fight, sides must be chosen.

On the "package" side—the all inclusive participation of labor in defense mobilization—labor leaders would like to show Director Wilson something, just as the reporters did the professor. They want their voice to be heard in every action taken, including cutbacks of scarce materials, restrictions on consumer goods, production programs in general.

Their determination is summed up in one terse comment by a qualified spokesman:

"If labor is to share equally in sacrifice, it must be in on the ground floor when decisions are made."

In short, organized labor is not going to play ball until it gets what it wants. As the spokesman added:

"When our know-how is enlisted in the common effort, the production machine will go ahead full speed."

lieves congress can best attain this objective by divorcing the draft from the controversial universal military training issue. With the nation at war and needing a continuing flow of draftees UMT could not be put into effect at present. So why not postpone the argument until a later date?"

Kansas City (Mo.) Times (Ind.): "If UMT can't win congressional backing when our outnumbered soldiers are fighting Communists in Korea, it hasn't much chance of being accepted when the need for adequate manpower reserves isn't so pressingly apparent. . . . The idea was to get by with the cumbersome and inherently unfair craft for another one and one-half to three years and then switch to an orderly system of UMT, thus building up large, trained and ready reserves at the same time the standing forces were being scaled down. . . . The assurance of UMT for preparedness into the future seems scuttled by house members."

Christian Science Monitor (Ind.): "To their credit UMT opponents are by no means questioning the necessity of continuing selective service. That alone represents a long advance from 1948, when many of the same congressmen are wishfully believing that long-range bombers were a complete substitute for men. Perhaps, having acted for the record to satisfy the reluctance toward UMT among their constituents, many will be willing to let the more realistic senate provisions prevail in the legislative mill."

LA. PRESS GROUP ELECTS OFFICERS

Baton Rouge, La., April 21.—(AP)—Publisher Jules Fogel of the Vivian, La., citizen is the new president of the Louisiana Press Association, which closed its 71st annual convention here today.

Fogel succeeds John Gordon, publisher of the Houma Courier.

Publisher Roland Huson of the Jonesville Booster was named second vice president.

A record number of delegates, about 250, adopted resolutions during the two-day meeting which:

Propose that a school for printers "be established in the state's education system. . . .as soon as fund are available."

Cite Louisiana's timber resources and recommend building of a pulp mill in this area as a source of newsprint.

Approve sponsoring, along with other state press associations, filming of a $50,000 motion picture, "Freedom of the Press," to be shown civic groups throughout the nation.

Chosen directors of the association were:

Harold Anthony of Logansport, Nathan Bolton of Bastrop, Clarence Faulk of Ruston, Marvin Lipp of Oak Grove, R. W. Wagner of Jena, Ralph Bienvenu of Abbeville, Matt Vernon of New Iberia, Eddie Jackson of Thibodaux and John Thistlethwaite of Opelousas.

Officers also were elected by the Louisiana daily newspaper publishers association, which met concurrently.

Six Injured In Miss. Windstorm

McComb, Miss., April 21.—(AP)—Six women were injured, none seriously, this afternoon when a sudden windstorm struck the heart of the McComb business district, sucking out plate glass windows and piling the streets with debris.

It lasted less than 30 seconds and followed a heavy rainstorm. The wind, in turn, was followed by a heavy electrical storm.

The six injured, all Saturday afternoon shoppers, had taken refuge in a downtown grocery store. They were cut by flying glass when the store's plate glass window was ripped from its frame.

They were: Mrs. Mary Anderson, Mrs. D. L. Russell, Mrs. R. A. Woodall, Peggy Blount and Mrs. Jack Talbot, all of McComb; and Mrs. Grady Biglane of nearby Summit, Miss.

Windows in the First National and Merchants' State Bank, F. W. Woolworth's, Dixie Autolec, Ward Mercantile and the Holly Shop buildings were shattered.

J. Oliver Emmerich, of the McComb Enterprise Journal, said the wind seemed to form a suction which pulled the windows from the buildings. Both steel and cloth awnings were ripped from their moorings and scattered in the streets. A number of automobiles were damagged by the flying debris.

No estimate of the amount of damage was available.

DOROTHY DIX

Hand-Raised Wife

Man Would Wed 16-Year-Old And Mold Her Character

DEAR MISS DIX: When I marry I am going to pick out a girl of 16 for a wife because love at that age is the truest, sweetest love of life. At 16 a girl thinks a man is a god. Later on she learns to distrust and fear men and becomes independent. Whenever that happens she is past the stage of true love. If she marries when she is 16 her husband can teach her that his way is always the right way. For that reason I am going to marry a 16 year-old girl and raise her to suit myself.

W. J. H.

DOROTHY DIX

ANSWER: Here's wishing you luck in bringing up a wife by hand, but if you think that any 16-year-old girl is a plastic bit of clay that you can shape to your heart's desire, you are vastly mistaken.

You will be just sixteen years too late in undertaking your experiment. Nature has had the start of you in bestowing upon her certain hereditary traits of character and allotting to her whatever brains, if any, she possesses. When she was born her mother took over the job, formed her tastes, habits, principles and point of view, and you will ascertain that in sixteen years these hardened into solid concrete that you can break your heart trying to change without making a single dent upon them.

Girl's aren't brought up in cloistered seclusion these days. They go to school with boys from their infancy up. They play with boys. They work with boys. And most of them have the number of every man they come in contact with to the last figure.

BOUND TO MEET OTHER MEN

Don't imagine that if you marry a girl of 16 that she will never know that there is any other man in the world but you. A wedding ring doesn't put blinders on a woman's eyes. Furthermore, don't befool yourself into thinking that the love of a 16-year-old girl is anything but kitten love. She is immature, childish, crazy about a thing one day and tired of it the next. She doesn't know what she wants in a husband any more than she knows what kind of a dress she will want next season. The chances are fifty to one that the man she marries at 16 she will tire of before she is 20.

The idea of picking out a girl child and rearing her up to be the kind of a wife you want is an alluring theory, but it doesn't work out in real life. Far better to marry a grown woman who suits you "as is." Then you know what you are getting.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am happily married and have a nice home, but am still interested in other men, like to flirt a little and know that I still attract men. I imagine myself in love with these other men, but, of course, that is as far as it goes. I can see no wrong in this. In fact, I think it helps keep one alive and young. Incidentally, I am still in love with my husband and wouldn't want anything to happen to our marriage.

MRS. G. L. P.

ANSWER: "Incidentally" is the proper word to apply to your affection for your husband. You love him on the side, as it were, when you are not having an affair with some other man. He doesn't fill your life nor your heart. He is just an incident—a happy accident that provides you with a good home and the pretty clothes with which you dress yourself up to make your conquests.

But, believe me, lady, your are playing with fire when you have your little extra-marital adventures and sooner or later you will get your fingers burned. There is no such thing as an innocent flirtation for a married woman, and the woman whose vanity makes her try out her fascinations on men has to pay a pretty price for her folly. For men always put the most sinister interpretation upon a wife's disloyalty to her husband and the husband fails to see that her coquetries mean nothing and are just done in a spirit of pure adventure.

You say you do not wish to lose your husband and your home. If you don't, you had better cut out the flirtations. Otherwise you are headed for the divorce court.

DEAR MISS DIX: I had a most unhappy childhood. My mother gave me no love, no sympathy, no understanding. At the earliest possible moment I left home just to get away. I have found peace and happiness with my husband and children, but we are only moderately well-to-do. Now my family has never done anything but make me miserable, yet they demand that I shall share my little with them and help support them. The question is, shall I impair the future comfort of my husband and children and sacrifice their few luxuries to help people whom I despise? There is no love on either side.

BEVERLY B.

ANSWER: If it is your parents who need help, probably it is your duty to divide your last crust with them, but I have never been able to see why the industrious and thrifty members of a family who were willing to work and save should support their lazy and idle and thriftless brothers and sisters.

MRS. MARY OBER FUNERAL IS HELD

Services Conducted Saturday For Well Known Resident

Mrs. Mary Haynes Ober, member of a widely known family, died after a lingering illness in a local sanitarium Friday. The funeral was held in Hixson Brothers Funeral Chapel Saturday at 4 p.m. Rev. A. M. Serex, pastor of the First Methodist Church, officiated. The interment was in Riverview Burial Park.

Pallbearers were R. H. Easterling, William E. Andrews, George W. Sawyer, John Knox Nunn, Jr., Elzee Montgomery, John McAdams, George Goodwin (Bastrop mayor) and Arthur Baggett.

Mrs. Ober was a daughter of the late T. J. Haynes, one of the largest land owners and leading business men of northeast Louisiana. He resided in Jones, La., a little town almost on the Arkansas-Louisiana state line.

Following completion of her college education, she was married to W. A. Ober, who was operator of plantations and a general store. He was enthusiastic as sportsman and expended much money on baseball for his section of the state. He died about two years ago.

Following his death, Mrs. Ober had resided in Monroe. She was member of the First Methodist Church and of the Parker Memorial Bible Class.

She leaves her son, William Haynes Ober, attending Ouachtia Parish High School; a sister, Mrs. Fred Petty; and a niece, Mrs. Jack Taylor, both of Monroe.

Young W. Monroe Woman Is Missing

A blond - haired, 21-year-old West Monroe girl missing from her home since Fiday night, was the object of a search yesterday by local and state police.

Police identified the West Monroe blond as Yevonne Drain, of 603 Lazarre street. She was described as being about five feet six inches tall, having blond hair and blue eyes.

Officers said they were told Miss Drain was wearing black slacks and a pink blouse when she left her home Friday to go to town "for 15 minutes."

Police were notified that Miss Drain was missing at 9:15 p. m. Friday.

FREE ENTERPRISE TOPIC OF ADDRESS

John Temple Graves, II, To Speak Before Knife And Fork Club

The importance of free enterprise and the preservation of the American way of life will be the theme of the address by John Temple Graves II, guest speaker at the first official meeting of the Monroe-West Monroe Knife and Fork club. The meeting will be held on the roof of the Frances Hotel at 7 p.m. Monday.

R. Lee Vanderpool, Jr., president of the newly-formed group, hailed the address as one "of outstanding importance to all Americans."

"No greater champion of Americanism," he said, "can be found anywhere than the distinguished southern newspaperman, columnist, wirter and lecturer. His was 'a voice crying in the wilderness,' in the days when it was considered almost blasphemy to question the actions and the ideas of the dictator of the U. S. S. R. But now that the monster of the Kremlin has been shown up for the scoundrel that he is, people are paying more attention to Mr. Graves and to others who believe as he does.

"In 'Socialism Comes Creeping,' this 'modern Henry Grady' shows how we are gradually becoming a totalitarian state ourselves, being led to it step by step and with soft phrases even as England has. But he warns us that we will wind up by becoming as tight an economic and political dictatorship as is Russia unless we combat the evil forces of the corporate state wherever we find them and no matter how sweet sounding the titles under which they operate."

Graves is a prolific writer, a champion of American philosophy and a charming and graceful speaker who would be interesting even if he were talking about prairie dogs in western Kansas instead of the most timely and vital subject to be found on the nation's platforms.

He was educated to be a lawyer, but the smell of fresh news print, and the hot oil of a lineotype weaned him away from Blackstone and into the more colorful, lusty ranks of newspapermen. In the years between, he has become one of the most important authors of the South.

Two Charged With Forging Checks

Shreveport, La., April 21.—(AP)—A husband and wife team of check forgers, who have operated extensively in Texas, Louisiana and Pacific coast area, was apprehended here, Chief of Police E. G. Huckabay said tonight.

The pair was identified as Monty Thomas Munroe, 34, and his wife Jean, 28. When arrested here, they were operating out of an apartment in Marshall, Texas, Huckabay said.

Both will be arrained in Caddo district court on Tuesday on three counts of forgery.

Munroe admitted to officers here the passing of more than 100 worthless checks in Houston, Texas. Chief Huckabay said he is also wanted in Beaumont, Dallas, Fort Worth, and San Antonio, Texas, and Alexandria, Baton Rouge and New Orleans on similar charges.

JOINT CHIEFS

the joint chiefs of staff were among the president's civilian and military advisors who had unanimously recommended MacArthur's dismissal from his Far Eastern commands.

Today's statement issued by Clayton Fritchey, director of public information for the defense department, said:

"Operations in the Far East are being carried out in accordance with the views of the joint chiefs of staff. These views will be fully explained to the appropriate congressional committees. An analysis of the basic differences which exist between the joint chiefs of staff and Gen. MacArthur will be presented at that time."

Apparently in preparation for the testimony, the White House and defense department are making a detailed study of the huge file of messages exchanged between MacArthur and the joint chiefs of staff.

The idea is to find out exactly what the records will show in forthcoming congressional hearings on the Truman-MacArthur debate over the conduct of the Korean war.

Administration officials familiar with the study said today that two conclusions are unquestionably indicated by it:

First, the record will provide considerable support for MacArthur's contention that certain of his key views on what United Nations forces should about Red China were shared by the joint chiefs "from a military standpoint."

Second, on the same critical issues the decisions of the joint chiefs—taking into account not only military but broad political and other considerations—did not support MacArthur but did support the president.

One of the proposals which MacArthur put forward in his speech to congress Thursday was the imposition of a naval blockade against the China coast. It is understood that on one occasion the joint chiefs spoke favorably of such a blockade. But that was at a time, according to administration informants, when the United States command was faced with a possible withdrawal from Korea and was deciding what steps might be taken against China in such event.

Administration officials have decided that the critical point in the controversy which will reach the committee hearing stage toward the end of this month is MacArthur's "military standpoint." He said his proposals for an economic and naval blockade of China, for air reconnaissance over China and for a mainland invasion by Chinese Nationalist troops with American support had been shared in the past "from a military standpoint" by practically every military leader concerned with the Korean campaign" including our own joint chiefs of staff."

The joint chiefs, as this nation's highest military policy makers, were collectively MacArthur's boss and are in practice the president's military advisors. Evidence that the JCS supported MacArthur and generally favored doing what he proposed would show a clean break between the nation's civilian and military leaders which would seriously weaken Mr. Truman's position in the controversy with the general.

The administration therefore is interested in preparing for congress a case which will show that the president relied upon and conscientiously took the advice of his military leaders. Administration strategists in the present controversy feel that the military leaders themselves should take the lead in presenting this case to congress, with General Omar Bradley, JCS chairman, as the principal witness along with the secretary of defense, General George C. Marshall.

One argument which the administration apparently intends to use is that some of the seeming support for MacArthur's ideas as it may show up in documents placed before congress was in fact a little more than a formal expression of interest in the general's ideas. According to this argument, the important thing is what the joint chiefs actually decided in the form of recommendations to the president.

thing possible was being done. She even had determined, in her desperation, to fly to Washington to see President Truman. With Mrs. Vogeler in Vienna are their two sons, Bill 10, and Bobby, 11.)

Vogeler and Sanders — arrested Nov. 18, 1949, and held incommunicado for two months — were tried by a Communist court, along with five Hungarians, on charges of espionage, sabotage and attempting to drive a wedge between Hungary and the Soviet Union.

Calmly and without emotion, Vogeler confessed at the trial that he was a professional agent working out of the U. S. army intelligence headquarters in Vienna. He said he had been instructed to obtain special information about radar production, rockets, uranium and oil deposits in Hungary and to help atomic scientists to flee the country. Under the law, he and Sanders could have been sentenced to death.

(Vogeler's wife said he had been drugged or tortured to get the confession. The U. S. state department said he must have been drugged).

Today's communique said:

"The Budapest legation of the United States, instructed by its government, commenced negotiations several months ago. The negotiations intended that Robert Vogeler, an American subject, convicted in the Geiger spy affair, should be expelled by the Hungarian government.

"They (the United States legation) declared themselves to be ready to accede to various just Hungarian claims not fulfilled so far.

"Negotiations carried out on this basis were successful."

Imre Geiger was named head of the spy ring in which Vogeler was accused of working and was sentenced to death. His execution was announced Nov. 5, 1950. There was no hint as to the meaning of what the "just Hungarian claims" were to which the U. S. agreed to accede.

"I am sorry for the detrimental deeds I committed and I ask for a mild sentence," Vogeler had told the court at the end of the trial.

(As a result of the Vogeler arrest the United States forbade American tourists to go to Hungary and ordered the Hungarians to close their consulates in New York and Cleveland. The U. S. charged that Vogeler had been held incommunicado for three months following his arrest and was not permitted to see representatives of the American legation.)

Vogeler was born in New York City, Sept. 6, 1911. His father, W. R. Vogeler, now lives at 2515 78th street, Jackson Heights, Long Island, N. Y. His mother died Jan. 30, 1949.

Vogeler was educated at Peekskill Military academy and later was graduated from the U. S. naval academy at Annapolis. He did not go into active duty in the navy, but instead began specializing in electrical engineering. In 1939 he went to La Grange, Ill., and a year later worked for the Kellogg Switchboard and Supply Co.

The Associated Collegiate Press serves university, college and high school papers all over the nation as a critical agency, analyzing faults and pointing up superior or above-average work.

Grading standards have been raised in the past two years to such an extent that only two in the nation were sufficiently competent to win the "All-American" rating. Three junior colleges won the award last year, including Northeastern.

A.C.P. judges commented on the "excellent use of photographs," adding that "page one is attractive and holds the interest from top to bottom."

"Excellent" scores were given on the vitality of news, content of news stories, treatment, news leads, typography, appearance of the paper, and printing.

Bobby Knight, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Knight, DeSiard road and College avenue, is about as happy a chap as is to be found in the Twin Cities or perhaps the entire state. The reason for his happiness lies in the fact that he heard General MacArthur in the speech Thursday that may make important history.

And why is he so personally interested in the general? Well, back in Feb. 15, 1943, he was then in the first grade in Georgia Tucker School, and he had the temerity to write to General MacArthur after his teacher had told them much about the war in the Pacific. With schoolboy scrawling he informed the general that h ewas in the first grade and that "My room is doing their best to help win the war." This was dispatched to "General MacArthur, Australia."

Bobby's parents saw that the letter got off but they never expected that there would be a reply. But March 7, '43, three weeks later, Bobby did receive a few lines from the general who wrote: "Good for you, Bobby, signed General MacArthur."

Today Bobby is a freshman in O. P. H. S. but he is more keen than ever for the general and is proud that he is the only boy in the state, presumably, who received a personal message from the great commander.

And here's another concerning the mighty general: Miss Eloise Glenn, employed in Griffin studio, reports that she is related to Mrs. MacArthur and that they have been in close touch all through the years. Yesterday when interviewed she explained:

"Mrs. MacArthur was always wild about the army even as a young girl. When she grew up the opportunity came to make a trip by boat to Manila. It chanced that the general and his mother were also on this boat as he was en route to the Philippines. A close acquaintance ripened between the two, the general and the young woman, who later became his wife. She remained in Manila a year and then returned to the states. She and the general were married in New York City in April 1937."

Miss Glenn stated that she heard very frequently from Mrs. MacArthur but that she never mentioned politics or army affairs. She was delighted with life in Japan, Miss Glenn stated.

When the general and Mrs. MacArthur arrived in San Francisco, Miss Glenn wired: "Welcome home." She said that probably the MacArthurs were too busy to reply but she expects to hear from them soon.

The post office department, Washington, D. C., has designated the week ending May 5 as "Rural Mail Box Improvement Week," according to information received by the postmaster.

Rural mail boxes which are not properly erected or which are not in good, serviceable condition retard the delivery of mail and epose it to damage from the elements, it is said.

It is the desire of the department to encourage patrons of the rural delivery service to provide suitable mail receptacles and to erct them in such manner that they are readily accessible to the carrier and present a neat appearance. It is especially desirable that the boxes be maintained in a condition that will assure proper protection to mail placed therein, that the names of box owners be inscribed on the side of the boxes visible to the carrier as he approaches them, and at the boxes and their supports be kept painted.

Cheering word comes from St. Francis sanitarium to the effect that it now appears probable that sufficient money in the $600,000 campaign will be available to warrant start of construction on the epanded hospital some time this summer.

The nurses home has been provided with elevator service and will provide 50 rooms for patients during construction of the newly expanded building.

of the Syracuse Herald - Journal was elected president of the A. S. N. E., succeeding Dwight Young of the Dayton Journal Herald. Wright Bryan of the Atlanta Journal was elected first vice-president, putting him in line for the presidency next year.

2. Byron Price, assistant secretary general of the United Nations and former executive news editor of the Associated Press, said he doesn't believe there will be a World War III—if we keep our heads and keep our powder dry. Price spoke at a breakfast given the editors by Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity.

3. Carroll Binder of the Minneapolis Tribune reported that an attempt to draft a UN pact on freedom of information has boomeranged. The project was backed by the A. S. N. E., but Binder said so many nation favor restrictions in the pact that it would be made a suppressive document rather than a liberating one.

The editors received from Dr. Harold Cross, authority on newspaper law, a compilation of court rulings dealing with news suppression and federal and state censorship.

Cross says news barriers are rising in these fields: Financial dealings between government and citizens; divorce cases; support actions and family relationships; mandatory rules such as those which forbid publication of welfare rolls, and regulations concealing actions of state boards and commissions.

The freedom of information committee urged that the editors fight news suppression through their columns and the courts as well, when necessary.

It reported on news clampdowns ranging from the vast secrecy of the Atomic Energy Commission (A. E. C.) to the withholding of marriage license information in Yonkers, N. Y.

On the atomic secrecy, the committee said:

"While the press must recognize the necessity for some military secrecy, it also must constantly review and question the validity of A. E. C.'s decisions on what is to be withheld.'

On other specific matters it said:

1. There appears to be a definite connection between the Reconstruction Finance Corporation "scandals" and obstacles which have been placed in the way of information on RFC lending and some other federal operations.

2. A federal law that keeps secret the names of those on welfare rolls meant that more than $2,000,000,000 was spent last year "protected from any outside investigation of fraud."

3. Another $1,300,000,000 is spent on unemployment relief by the bureau of unemployment security which passed its own regulation barring its rolls from the public.

4. There is "the beginning of a vast, hardly discerned network of potential news suppression" in the commerce department. Cited here was advice from the department's authorities that a business group omit from its reporting of government contracts "any information in connection with the national defense effort."

Those on the committee with Pope were Leon Stolz of the Chicago Tribune, Felix McKnight of the Dallas News, S. L. Latimer, Jr., of the Columbia, S. C., state, Paul Block, Jr., of the Toledo Blade, Herbert F. Corn of the Washington Star and Philip H. Parrish of the Portland Oregonian.

The deputy sheriff said Pipkin told him he and his wife had been out drinking and returned home after midnight.

Mrs. Pipkin went to a closet and obtained a .22 caliber rifle and asked her husband to load it, Faulkner quoted Pipkin as saying.

Pipkin said he went to bed and his wife to the bathroom and "the next thing I knew, I heard a thud and heard her holler mother, mother."

Pipkin told the deputy sheriff his wife fell on their bed beside him and died a few moments later. She was shot once in the right breast.

The deputy sheriff questioned several other members of the dead woman's family besides the mother.

He said he would ask the FBI to investigate the mother's story of her daughter being married to eight or nine sailors and soldiers.

Jefferson Parish Coroner Dr. Kermitt Brau was to perform an autopsy later today.

came the first woman ever to be elected to state office. She has been re-elected every four years since then.

The Democratic primary election for governor and other state offices is scheduled Jan. 5, 1952. This is the crucial balloting in one-party Louisiana, where the general election which follows amounts to routine.

In her statement, Miss Grace declined to "go into details of my platform or campaign plans—for the present." She said she will open her campaign speaking tour "in the fall" at Plaquemine in Iberville parish.

Miss Grace was the second gubernatorial candidate to announce formally, but many possible candidates have been discussed publicly.

District Judge Robert F. Kennon of Minden announced his candidacy for governor some time ago. Kennon ran unsuccessfully for the post in 1948, and later, was a defeated by U. S. Senator Russell Long, Gov. Earl K. Long's nephew, in the race for that office.

Others listed as potential gubernatorial candidates recently include Lt. Gov. William J. Dodd, State Sen. Dudley J. LeBlanc of Abbeville, Finance Commissioner Lionel Ott of New Orleans, U. S. Rep. Otto Passman of Monroe and John Doles of Plain Dealing.

proaches to Chorwon. An Allied company fought its way back up a 1,500-foot ridge early Saturday after counterattacking Reds drove through the lines a one point Friday night and separated two Allied elements.

AP Correspondent Jim Becker on the central front said Allied artillery had a field day Saturday. Long Tom rifles and big Howitzers caught several large North Korean groups in the open as they moved south, and pounded them all day long.

An estimated 200 Reds were killed in one area northeast of the big Hwachon reservoir and 75 more were killed in a nearby sector. Other Red concentrations were spotted fleeing to the north in panic after the revastating bombardment, Becker said.

Allied patrols probed north of captured Hwachon town toward Kumhwa, important Communist buildup area 13 air miles north of 38, without meeting resistance. The road was strewn with mines.

Other United Nations elements scaled mountains west and southwest of Hwachon without contacting the foe.

South Koreans firmly seized strategic high ground southeast of Hwachon without a fight. They grabbed an important ridge on the west bank of the Pukhan river. Chinese entrenched on that ridge last week beat off Allied efforts to seize a mountain overlooking the Hwachon reservoir and dam.

Marine - piloted Allied planes flew through Communist anti-aircraft fire to rocket strafe and pour fiery napalm jellied gasoline on Red positions north of the 11-mile long reservoir.

There were fewer and fewer targets for UN planes. As the weather improved across the front after several days of rain, sleet and low hanging clouds, fighters and bombers pounded Red communication networks.

The fifth airforce in a weekly summary said 76 roads and 78 railroad links were cut at strategic spots which could not be bypassed. Some 36 tunnels were blasted and made impassable. Pilots claimed that 500 Communist vehicles were destroyed out of an estimated 800 attacked.

During the week 17 Communist tanks were destroyed or damaged, 50 gun positions knocked out and 1,000 casualties inflicted on the Reds.

F-86 Sabre jets of the fifth airforce also claimed three Russian-built Mig jets damaged and one probably destroyed.

The navy department in Washington announced that navy Corsair fighters Saturday destroyed three and probably four Russian - built Yaks. The Yak is the standard piston-engined fighter used by the Reds before the Mig appeared last November. The action took place near Chinnampo Saturday. It was possible the Yaks were operating from fields in North Korea.

B-29 bombers Saturday dropped 70 tons of bombs on highway bridges in the Anju area, north of Pyongyang in northwest Korea. One superfort hit Yonpo airfield on the east coast.

Lt. Gen. Earle E. Partridge, fifth airforce commander, reported that more than 100,000 Communist troops — the equivalent of 14 Red divisions—have been killed or wounded by his planes since the Korean war began.

The Eighth army communique estimated 1,155 Red casualties were inflicted in ground action Friday.

17 DEAD, 22 STILL MISSING

Coast Guard To Hold Investigation Monday After Tanker Collision

Mobile, Ala., April 21.—(AP)—With 17 dead counted and 22 missing men presumed dead, two tankers that collided and exploded into cremating flames on the Gulf of Mexico headed for ports tonight.

The two tankers—the 26,500 ton Esso Suez and the 10,000 ton Esso Greensboro — collided in dense dawn fog Friday, 200 miles south of Morgan City, La.

The Suez steamed today under her own power for Mobile, but was accompanied by the Esso New York. The Greensboro was taken in tow by another tanker and headed to Galveston, Tex.

The coast guard announced an investigation of the collision would open at Mobile Monday.

One man on the Suez, First Mate Walter Brehm, of Lyndhurst, N.J., died in the crash. Another man, not immediately identified, died from burns. Three other crewmen were burned, but no other injuries were reported among the 44 men aboard.

All the other casualties were from the Greensboro. Only five of the 42 men aboard have been picked up alive. Fifteen bodies have been recovered, 10 of them found so far within her burned hulk. The remaining 22 missing are presumed dead, including Capt. Cyril C. Eden of Tampa, Fla.

Marine records indicate the collision was the greatest disaster off the U.S. coast since 84 persons died in the crash of an American tanker and a freighter off the Atlantic coast June 6, 1943.

Four of the nine injured survivors were flown to Corpus Christi, Tex., last night.

Storekeeper Leroy E. Fay, of (1339 Clinton st.), Baltimore, Md., a Greensboro crew member, told of screaming shipmates trying to reach the deck from the bunks below.

"I opened a hatch and flames flew back in my face. There was a kid there got burned standing up. He was going to marry a Baltimore girl. Another man opened a door and was burned alive where he stood."

Another of the four flown to Corpus Christi, able bodied seaman John A. Horton of Cambridge, Mass., was on the bridge of the Suez at the time of the crash.

"I don't know how it happened," he said. "It was a very heavy fog."

He said he did not see the Greensboro until the ships were only 50 feet apart. He said that immediately after they collided flames burst with "a hell of an explosion."

Family Argument Ends In Shooting

Police reported a family argument last night resulted in a Negro woman being wounded and another Negro being charged with shooting to kill.

Booked by Monroe police was Lewis Tremble, 38, of 1706 Grammont street. He was transferred by officers to the parish jail.

Police said Daisy Harris, 42, of 1706 Grammont street, Tremble's mother - in -law, was shot in the leg. They said Charity Hospital attendants told them the Negro woman was not hurt critically.

The shooting occurred following an argument at 1706 Grammont street at 9:18 p. m., officers said. A police investigation of the shooting was continuing late last night.

SMEAR ATTEMPT ON MAC CHARGED

G. O. P. Says 'One-Sided' Account Leaked Out On MacArthur-Truman Meeting

By Jack Bell

Washington, April 21. —(AP)— Republicans in Congress accused the Truman administration today of leaking a "one-sided" account of a presidential conference on the Korean war in an effort to "discredit" Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

At the same time, Chairman Russel (D.-Ga.) told reporters the senate armed services committee will demand "all available documents"—including those covering President Truman's Wake Island meeting with MacArthur last October—in its inquiry into Far Eastern military and foreign policies.

Republicans reacted stormily after reading a New York Times dispatch from Washington dealing with the Wake Island conference. The dispatch said that, according to administration records made at the time, MacArthur was so confident of victory in Korea that he offered what he regarded as his best troops, the United States second division, for service in Europe.

The dispatch added that according to the documented sources, Gen. MacArthur apologized for embarrassing the president on the Formosa issue, and predicted the Chinese Communists would not enter the Korean conflict.

In more recent months, policy differences between the president and MacArthur mounted, and resulted in the general's removal from the Far East command.

Rep. Martin of Massachusetts, house Republican leader, said in New York that administration groups are trying to "smear" MacArthur "but they won't get away with it."

Senator Capehart (R.-Ind.), who has threatened to fight anyone who calls him a "warmonger" because he supports MacArthur's views, told reporters he thinks President Truman himself is responsible for the leak in hitherto confidential documents.

Senator Cain (R.-Wash.) said the information "obviously was planted by someone."

In New York, Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, MacArthur aide, said no stenographic notes were taken when the president conferred with MacArthur on Wake.

"The conference at Wake Island was held in October, over a month before the formal intervention of Red China," Whitney reminded newsmen. "The danger of intervention by Red China was inherent in the original decision, as Gen. MacArthur has publicly pointed out, to give military support to the government of Korea."

Whitney said that at the time of the Wake Island conference nobody had any idea that a decision for such an intervention had been made.

"As far as I know neither the state department nor the higher intelligence agencies of the government had the slightest evidence to warn of such a decision.

ANNOUNCE TOUGH PRICE CONTROLS

Johnston Announces Rigid Policy Of Controlling Industry Prices

Washington, April 21.—(AP)—The government tonight announced a "tough" new price control policy forbidding industries to raise prices if profits exceed a set standard.

Under this "yardstick" standard is going to be a very tough policrease prices if the industry's dollar profits amount to 85 per cent or more of the average of its three best years during the four-year period 1946-1949, inclusive.

The step was announced by Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston. It is one of a series designed to tighten inflation controls all along the line.

Also in the works are a drastic revision of manufacturers' price ceilings and plans to clamp a freeze both on living-cost wage increases for labor and parity boosts for agriculture. The latter step would require legislation.

Johnston laid down the profit yardstick in an order to price Director Michael V. DiSalle.

Officials said that, even though individual firms within an industry fall below the 85 per cent profit standard, they won't get consideration for higher price ceilings, except in "unusual hardship" cases. So long as their entire industry is above the 85 per cent earnings standard.

"I want to emphasize that this is going to be a very tough policy," Johnston told reporters. "We will get a lot of squawks. "It will mean that most cost increases will have to be absorbed."

Charge Driver After Auto Crash

An automobile accident on the 1400 block of DeSiard street yesterday resulted in a Monroe driver being charged with drunk driving causing property damage.

His bond was fixed at $350.

Police booked a West Monroe driver last night with drunk driving.

Officers identified the man as Charles Wallace, of 303 Cypress street, West Monroe.

Wallace's bond was fixed at $300.

MONROE, CLARKSDALE IN TWIN BILL TODAY

RAIN SPOILS 1ST OF SERIES HERE SATURDAY NIGHT

White And Knoke To Oppose Rosenfelder And Towles On Mound Today

The Monroe Sports and the Clarksdale Planters, after their series opener here last night was postponed because of wet grounds and threatening rain, are due to get in a double header at Legion Memorial Stadium this afternoon with the first game billed to start at 2 o'clock.

Both clubs, after their season's first series, are deadlocked for third place with Natchez and Greenwood. The Sports split even in four games with Natchez while the Planters likewise broke even in four with Greenwood.

Manager Al Mazur last night said his starting hurlers against the Planters will be Claude White, the Oil City speedball chunker, and Bill Knoke. Clarksdale's Skipper Jim Pruett will call on Howard Rosenfelder and Spencer Towles.

Rosenfelder won nine and lost seven with Green Bay of the Wisconsin State League last year, and was signed by Clarksdale as a free agent. The righthander lost his first start of the season. Towles, out of baseball last year, was at Clarksdale in 1947. Also a righthander, Towles won his first start against Greenwood.

White will be making his league debut as a Monroe pitcher today. Knoke has seen action in two so far, losing one, the opener with Natchez here Tuesday night.

Business Manager Paul Manasseh of the Sports yesterday announced Infielder Hal Wolan, with the locals early last spring and optioned to Alexandria but recalled for this year, has been sold to Temple, Tex., of the Class B Big State League.

Earlier in the week the Sports optioned Pitcher Jackie Rose 18-year-old rookie from Panola, Tex., to Ardmore, Okla., of the Sooner State League.

Outfielder Bob Hamric, being counted on to give the Sports power at the plate, will be out of action another ten days to two weeks. Hamric suffered a pulled muscle in his right leg as he was sliding into second base in the game at Natchez Thursday night.

Pruett, successor to Chet Morgan as manager at Clarksdale, has only three men back from last year's club. They are Dave Dick, third baseman; George Foster, shortstop; and Willie Oberschmidt, autfielder.

Dick and Foster give the Planters the nucleus of a capable infield that includes Pete Christy, first baseman who was with Pine Bluff in 1948-49 and with Raleigh in the Class B Carolina League last year and Hugh Claze, second baseman bought from St. Petersburg, Fla.

John Crocker, optioned to Clarksdale from Nashville, does most of the Planters' catching. He was with Baton Rouge in the Evangeline League last year.

Joining Oberschmidt in the outfield are Jack Sinott, veteran purchased from St. Petersburg; Harold S. Bateman from Fort Smith, Ark.; Joe Pierce from Ellisville, Miss.; and "Butch" Tatti, on option to the Planters from Raleigh, N. C. Tatti is also a promising pitcher.

The Monroe Knot - Hole Gang also makes its season's debut today since the rain yesterday spoiled their opener last night.

All members of the Knot-Hole Gang, sponsored by the Y's Men's Club of Monroe, are admitted free to Monroe home games on Fridays, Saturdays, and Sundays during school terms. At the close of school for the summer months, Thursday night games will be added to the list.

The age limits for Knot-Hole members, who have a special reserved section all their own, is eight to 14 years. Applications for membership are available at Lockhart-Blair Sports Shop as well as the Knot-Hole Gang buttons (the member's pass to all designated games) which sell for ten cents each.

The Clarksdale double header today is a regularly scheduled twin bill and not a double-up because of last night's postponement. The game billed for last night will be played on the Planters' next visit here the first week of June as part of a double header.

The Greenwood Dodgers will be here for two games tomorrow and Tuesday nights. Then the Sports take to the road for eight games, three at Greenwood beginning Wednesday, three at Clarksdale beginning Saturday, and two at Natchez April 30 and May 1.

The next Monroe home stand will be for only two games, with Natchez May 2 and 3, and the Sports take off for a three-game series at Greenville May 4-5-6 before coming back to Memorial Stadium for three Pine Bluff games May 7-8-9 and two Hot Springs contests May 10-11.

General's Son Sees His First Big League Game

New York, April 21.—(AP)—Thirteen - year - old Arthur MacArthur, who learned his baseball in Japan, saw his first major league ball game today.

Accompanied by aides of his father, the youngster went to the Polo Grounds to see the Giants and Dodgers play.

Giants Manager Leo Durocher gave him a Giant cap, black with orange lettering; a player's jacket black and gold-lined, and an infielder's glove.

Arthur took off the plum colored jacket which he has worn since his arrival from Tokyo and donned the baseball jacket. It was a little big.

"He'll grow into it," Durocher said.

While the boy tried on the cap Durocher asked "Can you play second base?" Arthur nodded assent.

Arthur was accompanied to the game by Col. Sidney Huff, an aide to General MacArthur, and Mrs. Huff and Lt. Col. Anthony Story, the general's pilot.

REPETOIRE WINS WOOD MEMORIAL

Battle Morn Runs 2nd; Even-Money Favorite, Uncle Miltie, Is Eighth

New York, April 21.—(AP)—Repetoire, the Virginia colt with the misspelled name and the flying feet, won the $49,800 Wood Memorial at Jamiaica today and became the east's leading contender for the Kentucky Derby two weeks hence.

Mrs. Nora Mikell's rags - to-riches galloper flashed under the wire by a head margin over Cain Hoy Stable's Battle Morn, with Brookfield Farm's Intent third, another length and a quarter behind.

The result threw another big blot on the record of Uncle Miltie, which finished eighth for the second week in a row. Last week the crowd backed Uncle Miltie down to 1 to 3 favoritism in the Experimental Handicap No. 2. This time, apparently believing the J. J. Colando Derby hope could not run such a bad race two Saturdays straight, the audience of 44,230 made him the even money choice.

Thirteen three - year - olds started this 27th running of the famed Wood Memorial, which has sent six of its winners on to grab gold and glory in the Derby. Ten of today's field are eligible for the $100,000 race May 5 at Louisville.

Repetoire, third choice in the betting today after winning the Chesapeake Stakes last week at Laurel, clipped the mile and one sixteenth of the Woods in 1:44 2-5 on a fast track. It was his third victory without defeat this year.

His backers got $15.40, $6.20 and $4.60, and his Dover, Del., owner pocketed $33,250 in this richest Wood Memorial of them all. Battle Morn paid $8.00 and $5.70 and earned $8,000 second money for his owner, H. F. Guggenheim, former ambassador to Cuba. Intent, owned by Harry Isaacs, Baltimore clothing man, returned $7.20 by beating Mrs. Wallace Gilroy's Timely Reward a length.

Midget Wrestlers Billed For Kallic's Arena Tuesday

DOUBLE FEATURE INCLUDES ESTES COFFIELD MATCH

Sideshow Fugitives, Sky Low Low And 'Sonny Boy' Cassidy On Card

A double main event wrestling card that includes those fugitives from a circus sideshow, midget tusslers, is billed for Tuesday night at Gus Kallio's Arena here.

Balk Estes, former world's light heavyweight champion, and Jimmy Coffield will share top billing for the night with "Sonny Boy" Cassidy, 85 - pound Texan, and Sky Low Low, 86-pound Canadian.

The midget wrestlers, already a big attraction in eastern and northern arenas, and on television shows, are the latest rage of the mat, but Promoter Kallio is bringing the battling bantams here for the first time.

"Sonny Boy" Cassidy, a Tyler, Tex., cowboy once featured for years with the Al G. Barnes Circus, can't ride like "Hopalong," but in the wrestling arena he has been proving mighty tough to beat, defeating many opponents much heavier. He's considered one of the fastest little men in the business.

A little bundle of dynamite already tagged the "Canadian Wildcat," Sky Low Low is called the "fastest, meanest, trickiest midget wrestling today."

At Paris, France, in 1948 the little Canadian won out in a tournament with 30 other midgets for the title "Little Atlas of the World." Just two years earlier, stricken by pneumonia, doctors had feared for his life as he withered away to 57 pounds, but Low surprised nurses and physicians with his rallying power to pull through.

Estes, the Tulsa terror, who has been trying for another world's title shot at "Buff" Serois, eliminated Al Perry as a contender last Tuesday but he had one of his roughest nights in weeks turning the trick.

Kallio invited him back this week.

"If you want me back, get me an easy one. I need some rest after this match,' Estes said.

Kallio said last night Estes hasn't been made aware of who his opponent will be.

"If Estes is expecting a push-over, I'm afraid he's going to be surprised," Kallio said. "I went ahead and signed Coffield to meet him. Estes isn't going to like it because Jimmy is anything but easy for any of the light-heavies."

Jack Britton, Louisville, Ky., will be here to referee both matches, each billed for time limits of an hour and fifteen minutes with two falls to win.

Admission prices will be $1.50 for ringside and $1 for general admissions and children.

LITTLE LEAGUE NEARING START

First Workouts Slated Next Saturday; Six Clubs In Boys' Circuit

Six teams have already enlisted in the Little Baseball League for boys whose ages range from 8 to 12 years, and Recreation Director Jack Hesketh has launched a new drive for more players before the first workouts are held net Saturday.

Boys wishing to enter the league should make their applications at the Lockhart-Blair Sports Shop, or at the "Rec" Center on Catalpa street.

Hesketh said last night that the Monroe Furniture Company, Olcott-Stone, The Palace, Reed's Refrigeration, KNOE, and United Gas have signed as sponsors for the half-dozen teams in the league.

This year is the first time the Little League idea has been worked out in Monroe.

Equipment, including everything from masks to uniforms, is already on hand, and insurance protection has been arranged for every youngster who plays.

T. L. McKeithen, Sam Rubin, Ivy McDonald, James McKay, Bob Harmon and Cecil Johnson are the team managers listed tentatively last night by the recreation director.

Hesketh said that tryouts would be held Saturday, although he will announce the practice sites later. The only restricting rule is that all players must be between the ages o f8 and 12, and must not be 13 before August 1 this year.

Manley In Stirring Stretch Finish To Nip Patton In North, South Golf

Ticklish Situation Developes At 8th Hole Over Misunderstanding

Pinehurst, N.C., April 21. —(AP)— Hobart Manley, of Savannah, Ga., a terrific competitor under fire, threw five finishing threes at Billy Joe Patton of Morganton, N.C., today to win the North and South Amateur golf championship, 1 up, in a tense 36-hold final struggle.

The 24-year-old Georgia lumberman choked off Patton's bid to tie the match and force overtime play by coming in with a 30-foot putt on the final hole for a birdie three and a match-clinching halve.

The bespectacled 29-year-old Patton, also a lumber dealer, raced into a five up lead through the first eight holes this morning and at lunch time was on top, three up.

Patton led by four up through 21 holes and was two up with five to play. Then Manley exploded his five straight threes—an eagle, two birdies and two pars—to pull out the victory and give the large gallery which included Defense Secretary George C. Marshall something to cheer.

For 36 holes over the 6,900-yard Pinehurst Country Club No. 2 course Manley was three over par on rounds of 40-36—76 and 36-35—71 for 147. Patton scored 34-38—72 and 38-36—74 for 146, two over par.

An interesting situation developed on the eighth hole of the afternoon round that ended with both taking par five after considerable confusion.

They came to the hole with Patton two up. Patton was in woods to the right of the pin off the tee and Manley in woods to the left. Patton got on the green in three and some seconds later Manley, who'd put a ball into the rough before getting on the putting surface, told Patton that he lay four on the green. Manley said his tee shot came to rest on pine needles and moved before he could hit and he penalized himself a stroke.

Referee Willie Wilson accepted Manley's explanation and Patton, believing he needed only two putts from 25 feet to win the hole with a five conceded a two - footer to Manley for what was thought to be a six but later was changed to a five when Referee Wilson reversed the original ruling. Manley told Wilson he had not grounded his club preparatory to making the shot when the ball moved and Wilson said no penalty stroke was involved.

Manley was concerned over whether he might have misinformed Patton by telling him he lay four instead of three as was later found to be the case. But there was the best of feeling between the contestants. Patton insisting he didn't want to beat Manley by the rule book, said he'd consider the whole thing settled if Manley bought a soft drink at a nearby refreshment stand. The purchase was made and the match continued, with the debated hole later looming large.

The penalty for misinforming an opponent is loss of the hole, but neither Referee Wilson nor Patton saw the situation as one calling for the enforcement of that rule.

Weather Spoils Northeast Tilts

Rayville, La., April 21.—(Special)—The Rayville Red Sox postponed an exhibition baseball game here Sunday against the West Monroe White Sox beacuse of muddy grounds.

The game was to serve as part of the warm - up program for the two Northeast Louisiana League teams. Last week, the White Sox bested Rayville 3 to 1 in a game rained out in the sixth inning. It was the season's first game for both clubs.

The LaSalle Producers of Urania, another Northeast League club, is slated for a trip to West Monroe next Sunday to open a two - game exhibition series.

Although rain has hindered early games for Urania, Bastrop, West Monroe and Rayville, the clubs have been busy working out on their home fields, since all are still building up strength for the season opener May 13. Mangham and Winnsboro the other two clubs in the loop, have scheduled no practice games as yet, at least in inter-league competition.

Heavy hitters on Louisiana State's baseball team this season is shortstop Billy Hanna, with a fat .563, followed by third baseman Luther Payer, with .421, and catcher Gene Murphy, with .385.

RED SOX FINALLY WIN; YANKEES EDGE NATS

WILLIAMS BELTS 1ST HOMER AS A'S DEFEATED, 6 TO 3

Mickey Mantle Doubles Home Winning Run In Bombers' 8-7 Victory

Boston, April 21.— (AP) —After three straight losses, the Boston Red Sox untracked themselves today and won their first game of the American League's 50th season, whipping the Philadelphia Athletics 6-3.

Ted Williams belted his first homer of the season — a two-run poke 400 feet into the right field bleachers in the first inning — to give the Sox a 2-1 lead. Elmo Valo, homered for the A's in their first inning.

A chilled audience of 13,254 cheered their favored Sox to four more runs in the eighth on two hits, three walks and a hit batsman. Those tallies put the game out of reach of the A's who threatened in the ninth when they scored twice.

Left hander Chuck Stobbs pitched well through the first eight innings to gain credit for the victory although Maury McDermott finished the ninth.

Stobbs had been touched for one run and had men on second and third when he was replaced.

Two walks, a misjudged fly which fell for a double, another walk and a double play gave the A's their last two tallies.

The Sox played with a revamped lineup. Walt Dropo was benched and his first base berth was filled by Billy Goodman, moved in from right field, where utilityman Tom Wright took over. The Sox also batted in somewhat different order than in their first three games

BROWNS DOWN INDIANS

Cleveland, April 21. —(AP)— Ned Garver hurled the St. Louis Browns to their first American League victory today by whipping Cleveland's Indians 9-1 and limiting them to five singles.

The Browns scored on Bob Lemon in the first inning, led all the way, and drove him from the mound with a five-run rally in the seventh. St. Louis nicked Lemon for nine hits—four of them for extra bases—and added another run and two hits off his reliefers, a pair of rookie righthanders, George Zuverink and Bob Chakales.

Johnny Berardino, a former Indian, doubled home the Browns' first two runs in the first and fifth. Ray Coleman's triple was the big blow in the seventh-inning rally.

Cleveland's regular shortstop, Ray Boone, was sidelined with a sprained ankle.

YANKS NICK NATS

Washington, April 21.—(AP)—Mickey Mantle, highly publicized rookie doubled home the winning run in the eighth inning today to give the New York Yankees a shakey, 8-7 victory over the upstart Washington Senators.

The setback ended Washington's four-game winning streak and ended a two-game Yankee losing skein.

Frank Shea, bothered with a sore arm the past three years, opened for the Yanks and was breezing along with a 6-0 lead when he fell apart in the sixth inning. Before Tom Ferrick shut the floodgates, the Senators had shoved seven runs across to take the upper hand.

Gil Coan was the big gun in the Washington rally. He opened the uprising with a triple and closed it with a three-run three-bagger. Three walks and three singles also figured in the flareup. Coan's feat of hitting two triples in one inning tied the record which had been performed only four times previously since 1900.

The Yanks tied the score in the seventh and won out in the eighth when Phil Rizzuto singled with one out, moved to second on a sacrifice and scored on Mantle's double down the third base line.

Irv Noren doubled to open the Senator ninth. He moved to third on a bunt but died there as Sam Mele grounded out and Gene Verble lined out.

COOPER VAULTS TO BRIEF MARK

Betters 15-Foot Mark At Kansas Relays; Wilt Catches Gehrmann

Lawrence, Kas., April 21.—(AP)—Don Cooper of Nebraska swiped the show from the famous milers in the Kansas Relays today by clearing the pole vault bar at 15 feet ⅛ inch for a new intercollegiate record.

But Cooper's new mark lasted only a few hours. Illinois' Don Laz vaulted 15, 1¾ inches later in the day during a triangular meet at Los Angeles between Illinois, Michigan and Southern California.

Until Laz and Cooper turned in their record breaking performances today, only one other man had ever bettered 15 feet in an outdoor meet. This was Cornelius Warmerdam wo set the world's record of 15 feet, 7¾ inches in 1942.

Cooper's vault from a damp takeoff followed by half an hour F. B. I. agent Fred Wilt's conquest of his No. 1 fugitive, Don Gehrmann, in the Glenn Cunningham Mile, feature of the relays.

Wilt beat the little ex-Wisconsin ace in the first of their outdoor meetings and for the third time in a dozen tries this season. The slow time for the event was 4 minutes, 16.8 seconds.

The outstandings athlete award went to Cooper by acclamation. His was the only meet record of the day.

Cooper, a World War II veteran and a Nebraska senior made his best jump on his second try. He finally missed at the 15-3 mark.

The vault marked the ninth time this year that Cooper has bettered 14 feet. He hit 14 feet, 9¼ inches in a recent dual meet with Colorado. That was his best previous performance, and the best ever indoors from a dirt runway.

Only three other vaulters have reached 15 feet, in addition to Warmerdam, the trick was turned by Don Laz and Don Richards, both of the University of Illinois.

The previous intercollegiate record was 14 feet, 11 inches, set in 1937 by Earle Madows and Bill Sefton of Southern California.

The previous Kansas Relays record was 14 feet, 5 inches, set by Bill Carroll, Oklahoma, in 1950.

The 9,500 fans who turned out in cloudy, chilly weather for the 26th relays got a big kick out of the Wilt - Gehrmann mile. It was a Wilt crowd and Wilt made it his day.

Wilt got his first lead beginning the last quarter. He was in front by six yards on the back stretch, then won by no more than a horse's nose as the game little Gehrmann lunged at the tape and fell to the cinders.

Denis Johansson, Purdue's sparkling freshman, placed third and Javier Montes of Texas Western, fourth.

Gehrmann was striving for a third successive mile victory here. Wilt, who's better at tje 5,000 and 10,000 meters had the most stamina. Usually a pace setter in the Gehrman-Wilt rivalry, the Gehrmman let the other boys set it today and the strategy paid off.

The University of Oklahoma Sooners dominated the university relays event just as they did in the Texas Relays three weeks ago. Coach John Jacobs sent his baton men into four races and they won three, placed second in another.

The Sooners broke the tape in the 440-yard, 2-mile and mile relay and were second in the half-mile relay. Their best performance was in the miler, where the time was 3:18, only four - tenths of a second off the meet record.

Jerry Meader ran a 48.6 seconds anchor leg in the mile relay. He had a dog-fight with Drake's Jim Lavery before winning by about five strides. The Sooners took the 2-mile relay in 7:57.5, and the quarter - mile in 42 seconds flat.

Oklahoma got an assist in the 440 relay when Texas' anchor man Ralph Person, pulled up with a lame leg after getting a six-yard advantage.

The college class boys did right well, too. Abilene Christian winning time in the spring medley relay, 3:30.7, was better than Missouri's 3:33.4 in the university class.

Ken Sterns, 6-foot 6-inch Baker Univeristy senior, was a surprise winner in the high jump after Texas A. and M.'s Buddy Davis was scratched because of a foot injury. Sterns cleared 6 feet 4 5-8 inches.

Heard And Abernathy Announce Switch Of Game To Fair Grounds Stadium

Shreveport, La., April 21. —(AP)— Louisiana State University will play a football game in Shreveport next season for the first time in 14 years.

The announcement was made here today by L.S.U. Athletic Director T. H. Heard and M. A. Abernathy, athletic committee chairman for the Louisiana State Fair Stadium in Shreveport.

The game — L.S.U. vs. Villanova—is scheduled for Nov. 24 at the state fair stadium, kickoff at 2 p.m. (CST).

Heard and Abernathy said the contest, scheduled originally for Baton Rouge, was moved to Shreveport at the request of L.S.U. alumni and fans of north Louisiana.

"Not only will the fans in this section have an opportunity to see the L.S.U. Tigers in action again at Shreveport," Heard said, "but the contest will bring them one of the finest intersectional football games of the 1951 collegiate season."

Abernathy added:

"We confidently look forward to a complete sell-out."

Abernathy said L.S.U.'s footballers last appeared in Shreveport in 1937, against the University of Arkansas. It was the latest meeting of the two schools, he said, which played here regularly until then.

After the 32,000-seat stadium here was completed in 1950, Abernathy said, football fans hereabouts "immediately started a movement to bring the Tigers back."

L.S.U. defeated Villanova in Baton Rouge last season. It was the first time they had played.

Rochester Royals Pro Cage Champs

Rochester, N. Y., April 21.—(AP)—Bob Davies sank two vital free throws in the last minute to spark Rochester to a 79-75 victory over the New York Knickerbockers and give the Royals the championship of the National Basketball Association.

A yelling, jam-packed crowd of 4,206 fans visited the Sports Arena here to see the Royals annex their first N. B. A. crown. They had come back here tonight in the seventh and deciding game after the Knicks, who dropped the first three decisions, staged a pheNomenal comeback by winning the fourth, fifth and sixth games.

The Knicks didn't complete their miracle finish, but they came as close as possible. They overcame a 14-point second quarter deficit, took the lead for the first time in the game with four minutes remaining, then fell in the final minute.

There were 14 seconds to play when the Royals explosive guard, Blond Bobby Davies, was fouled underneath the basket as he tried for a layup.

Davies calmly poured in two free throws to put the Royals out in front at 77-75.

The Knicks never got another shot, and Jack Coleman dunked the clincher on a pass from Red Holzman with only three seconds left.

DODGERS TAKE GIANTS; BRAVES DROP PHILS

BROOKLYN MAKES USE OF JANSEN'S WILDNESS TO WIN

New York Loses, 7-3; Robin Roberts Victim Of Boston Nationals, 8-6

New York, April 21. —(AP)— The Brooklyn Dodgers capitalized on Larry Jansen's wildness and some lusty hitting by Jackie Robinson today to trounce the New York Giants, 7-3.

Robinson drove in three runs on a homer and double as the Dodgers snapped a 3-all tie to win with a three-run rally in the eighth.

Jansen held the Dodgers hitless until the fourth when, with two out, he walked Duke Snider. Robinson followed with a home run to shoot the Dodgers ahead, 2-1. Jansen forced home a run in the seventh, then blew sky high in the eighth.

Gene Hermanski singled to start the rally. Snider and Robinson followed with doubles. Robinson stole third and scored when Catcher Wes Westrum threw low past third. The Brooks squeezed home their final run in the ninth.

Lanky Chris Van Cuyk opened for Brooklyn and yielded all of New York's runs. Westrum accounted for two of these with a homer in the fourth. Van Cuyk left for a pinch-hitter in the seventh and Ralph Branca finished up with three scoreless innings to gain credit for the victory.

REDS BEAT BUCS

Cincinnati, April 21. (AP)— The Cincinnati Reds hauled themselves out of a three-game season-opening losing streak today by beating the Pittsburgh Pirates 8 to 3, behind the pitching of Howard Fox and the slugging of Bobby Adams.

Fox, the big Oregon woodchopper, kept seven Pirate hits well spaced. He never was in danger after Adams boomed out a home run in the third inning with rookie Roy McMillin on first.

Adams also contributed two triples to the Cincinnati effort. His lead-off triples in both the fifth and sixth frames led to Cincinnati runs.

DON LAZ SOARS TO NEW RECORD

Set Collegiate Pole Vault Mark In Triangular Meet At Los Angeles

Los Angeles, April 21.—(AP)—Illinois' great Don Laz became the third man in history today to vault 15 feet out of doors, soaring to a bar-brushing 15 feet, 1 3-4 inches in Memorial Coliseum.

Holding a crowd of 9,197 spellbound long after the rest of a triangular meet between Illinois, Michigan and Southern California had finished, Laz tried again and failed to clear the crossbar an inch higher. He had vaulted 15 feet, one inch previously indoors.

Only the great Cornelius Warmerdam, world record holder at 15 feet, 7 3-4 inches, has gone higher out of doors. Bob Richards, the preacher from nearby La Verne, has cleared the mark several times indoors.

Laz took the play away from a smashing Southern California victory. The Trojans, defending N. C. A. A. champions, scored 75 points, to 4 for Illinois and 35 for Michigan.

U. S. C. did it by all-around excellence and by piling up points in the high jump and hurdles.. They definitely served notice that they will be a contender for N. C. A. A. honors again.

The blond Laz, who climbed to 14 feet, 6 7/8 inches a week ago for his best previous outdoor mark, left the rest of the field at 14 feet 4 inches today.

He topped 14-8 with ease, to set a new Illinois school record. Then, shooting everything at the intercollegiate mark set earlier today in the Kansas Relays by Don Cooper of Nebraska, 15 feet, 1/8 inch, Laz ordered the bar up six inches to 15 feet, two. Cooper is the second man to have vaulted over the magic 15-foot mark.

Twice he tried and knocked it off. The third time he skimmed over, brushing the stick with his arm. It quivered but held fast.

Officials then measured the crossbar and found that the center sag lowered the figure to 15 feet 1 3/4 inches. But it made no difference to the crowd, which gave him a tremendous ovation and groaned in unison as he missed three times at 15 feet, three.

Aside from Laz, the meet's big guns were Michigan's Don McEwen, the only double winner, and a blond weightman from S. C., sophomore Parry O'Brien.

McEwen won his specialty, the mile, in four minutes, 11.3 seconds, fastest time of his career and a new Michigan record. His previous best time was 4:12, set last year. Then he came back to stride two miles in nine minutes, 19.6 seconds, well behind his own best time of 9:01.9.

He was not pressed in either race.

O'Brien, holder of last year's best freshman shot put mark nationally, 53 feet, 9 1/4 inches, got the 16-pound ball out 55 feet, 4½ inches today for a new school record. It beat the 1944 standard of Earl Audet by exactly one foot.

Southern California, usually strong in the relay, took the event from Illinois by a five-yard margin. But the time of 3:19.6 was relatively slow.

Three Southern Californians tied at six-feet-five in the high jump. And Frank Flores of S. C. leaped 23 feet, 7½ inches to win the broad jump.

Arrest Another As Cage 'Fixer'

New York, April 21.—(AP)—Jack Goldsmith, 31 - year - old former Long Island University basketball star, paid $3,500 to four L. S. U. players to "fix" a game between L. I. U. and Duquesne University at Madison Square Garden, January 1, 1949 District Attorney Frank S. Hogan said tonight.

Goldsmith is the 19th player to be arrested in the continuing investigation of basketball fixed games.

Hogan said Goldsmith who lives in Brooklyn, arranged for the L. I. U. team to lose the game to the visitors though the New York quintet had been favored to win. Duquesne won 64 to 55.

Goldsmith was booked shortly after 10:30 p. m. today on a charge of bribing participants in a sports contest, a felony.

Goldsmith had been an outstanding set - shot artist with L. I. U. teams and last played at L. I. U. in the 1946-47 season.

Vincent O'Connor, asistant district attorney, said Goldsmith offered $1,000 each to Edward Gard, Nathan Miller, and Louis Lipman and $500 to Richard Fuertado to "throw" the game.

SOFTBALL LOOPS ARE ORGANIZING

Civic Club, Industrial, City Leagues Preparing For New Season

Three men's softball leagues are in the process of organization here with the Civic Club League leading the parade of teams ready to go in the summer program sponsored by the Monroe Recreation department.

At organization meetings the past week the Civic loop had five starters ready, the Industrial League produced three teams primed to go, and the City League, long the major curcuit here, had representation from two sponsorless clubs.

Optimist Club, Jaycees, Progressive Men's Club, Veterans of Foreign Wars, West Monroe Lions Club, and the Exchange Club are ready to go with the Civic circuit. It was reported possible that the West Monroe Kiwanis and Monroe Kiwanis will combine for a sixth entry in the league. Civic Club play is billed to open May 15.

Southern Bell Telephone, News-Star, and Post Office were the three teams ready in the Industrial League with several other clubs making arrangements to move in. The middle of May will be starting time for the league.

With only two independent teams ready and sponsor-hunting in the City League, Recreation Director Jack Hesketh said yesterday more time will be given for City League teams to organize.

Five teams have already joined the Church Softball League, and two club's have entered the Girls' Softball League, Hesketh said last night.

A Senior League will be organized for boys aged 19 and under if entries are made soon enough.

In the Church League, Sterlington, Central Baptist, First Baptist of Monroe, and the First Christian Church of Monroe are already on the list. Chatham and Lover's Lane are the two which form the Girls' loop so far.

"Mind Went Blank," Bus Stripper Says

Charged with disorderly conduct because he took off a heavy winter suit in a crowded, sweltering bus late yesterday, Joe Burns pleaded temporary insanity because of the heat in Police Court here today.

"If you had been wearing one of the new cool Palm Beach suits," Judge Solomon Wise sternly told Burns, "you would not have made such a spectacle of yourself."

Judge Wise gave Burns the option of paying a $29.95 fine or spending the $29.95 for a new Palm Beach suit.

As a safeguard against possible future mental lapses, Burns chose two Palm Beach suits from the handsome selection of checks, stripes and smart solid colors at Krauss and Cahn.

"Oh, boy," Burns grinned, "these new, smooth, lightweight Palm Beaches are like wearing no suit at all. And I'd really be crazy not to love the new patented Fiber-Lock method that bounces out wrinkles and locks in smooth feel." Krauss and Cahn, 333 DeSiard.

LONG CONTINUES BLAST AT CRITICS

Address Louisiana Motor Transport Association In Alexandria

Alexandria, La., April 21.—(AP)—A blast at critics of Louisiana's tax rate was loosed by Gov. Earl K. Long in an address before the 11th annual convention of the Louisiana Motor Transport Association here today.

He said it had been necessary to tax the people to give them better hospitals and schools, pay higher teachers' salaries and provide other benefits, but added he could not see why anyone should complain "if every dollar is going for the good of the citizens and the taxpayers of this state."

Long said he would call a special session of the legislature within a few weeks to get money to widen highways in Louisiana. He said the money is needed to do what could have been done if the highway bond issue had not been defeated last fall.

"There's never enough money lying around to build or do anything without a bond issue," he said.

Long said he was happy to talk to the truckers "because that's one group that's not always penny-pinching and cussing about taxes. They know we need good roads."

To emphasize his argument that tax money is being used to help the people, Long said "if anybody here knows of any graft or wrong doing, all he's got to do is notify me and I'll have it stopped PDQ."

Miss Mary Evelyn Dickerson, didector of the department of comby Long as an unscheduled speakby Long as an unscheduled speaker.

She said she had a few figures she wishes the newspapers would print and that she was citing them because "you don't get the facts from the newspapers."

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, April 21.—(AP)— The stock market went through the motions of doing business today, but that's about all.

Prices moved narrowly and sluggishly. Upside bulges went to around a dollar a share, and downside sags quit at around 50 cents.

The volume of business came to an estimated 400,000 shares, one of the slowest days in 18 months. Last Saturday the total came to 950,000 shares.

Staying open today was a convenience to the general public more than anything else. Many traders remained away yesterday, when the market to a two-hour recess in honor of General MacArthur, and they didn't bother to come back for today's two-hour session.

Curbs

Cit Svc ..; El Bond & Sh 13)2; Humble Oil 1 119 ¼; LeTourneau 2 39 ½.

GRAIN

Chicago, April 21.—(AP)— Wheat managed to work a little higher on the board of trade today despite the weight of hedging pressure. The bread cereal's gains were based on pessimistic crop reports and the action of the senate foreign relations committee late yesterday in approving food grants to India.

Wheat closed ⅛ lower to ¼ higher, May $2.48⅝, corn ⅝ to 1 cent lower, May $1.80½-⅝, oats ½ lower to ⅜ higher, May 90-89¾, rye (old style) ¼ to 1 cent lower; May $1.98-1.97¾, soybeans ½ lower to ½ higher, September $3.21¼-½, and lard 2 cents lower to 7 cents a hundred pounds higher, May $17.85.

COTTON

New York

New York, April 21. —(AP)—Cotton futures trading was quiet to day with price movements small. Early strength, led by the July 1951 delivery, gave way in subsequent trading to profit-taking and hedging. A large portion of the activity involved switches from nearby to more distant contracts. Spot houses supported old crop months.

Futures closed 20 cents a bale lower to 10 cents higher than the previous close.

New Orleans

New Orleans, April 21. —(AP)— Cotton futures advanced in early dealings today but declined later under weekend long realizing trading continued quiet.

Reports of rain in dry areas of the western belt and unfavorable textile reports apparently caused the late selling. Middling 15/16 inch inch spot cotton remained at the ceiling price of 44.91 cents a pound. Spot sales here totaled 192 bales.

Futures closed barely steady, unchanged to 25 cents a bale lower.

Father Drowns In Rescue Attempt

New Orleans, April 21.—(AP)—A 32-year-old father who once remarked that he would drown himself rather than see a child drown kept his word today.

Emile J. Jochum, Jr., father of five children, drowned in the New Orleans Industrial canal this afternoon in a vain attempt to rescue Blevin Thrash, 6, who had fallen into the water.

It was the tragic end of a children's crabbing party chaperoned by Jochum, police said.

Jochum went to the boy's assistance after he fell from an old barge into 60 feet of water. Jochum's 12-year-old son, Emile, III, also jumped into the canal in an attempt to save the other boy. He had forgotten he could not swim himself. Bystanders pulled him to safety.

Miss Genevieve Rolfe White Weds Dan Douglas McDuff

Ceremony In Mer Rouge Methodist Church Claims Wide Interest In Northeast Louisiana

A wedding characterized by sentimentality, dignity and beauty, and of wide-spread social interest, was solemnized in the Mer Rouge Methodist Church, March 25, when Miss Genevieve Rolfe White, daughter of Mrs. Warren Shelby White, and the late Mr. White, became the bride of Mr. Dan Douglas McDuff, of Bastrop, La.

In a setting of florescent beauty, the ceremony was performed by the Rev. R. W. Vaughan, who was privileged to officiate at the marriage of the bride's parents, 35 years ago, and a lifelong friend of the family. Rev. Clyde Shaw, in reverent tone, assisted in performing the ceremony which with the beautiful altar, the open Bible and the lighted cross overhead, served to accent the sacredness of the occasion.

The church was beautifully decorated with garlands of southern smilax, accenting the grace of the windows where candles in seven branched candlebra were placed. Graceful festoons of smilax suspended along the massive arch enhanced its natural beauty. The altar was exquisite with its covering of white satin, with the open Bible from which a shower of valley lilies fell, marking a favorite passage, "All things work together for good for those who love God."

On either side of the altar, were lighted candelabra, and tall pedestals holding specimen white gladiolas, in fan shaped vases. Interspersed were found arrangements of Easter lilies, and white stock with a profusion of fern. The chancel rail entwined with smilax made an effective background for the seven branch candelabra, whose lighted tapers cast a soft radiance and accented the cathedralesque lines of the beautiful little church

From the pipe organ, a memorial to the bride's father, a gift of her grandfather Rolfe, pealed pre-nuptial music by Billy Huchabay. The bride's brothers: Warren, Joe Rolfe, and Charles, whose voices blend so beautifully, sang "To You." Mr. Joe Rolfe White, in clear tones, sang Ralph Ward's, "Each Thought of You." Mrs. Hubert Sims' deep resonsnt tones lent beauty to "Be My Love." Mrs. Clare Clark in her usual impressive and lovely manner, sang "The Lord's Supper."

The candles were lighted by Mr. John Rolfe Windsor, Mr. Jack McDuff, and Mr. Joe Rolfe White. The familiar notes of "The Bridal Chorus" from Wagner's "Lohengrin" centered attention on the bridal party as they entered. First the ushers, Mr. Ben Tipton and Mr. Jack McDuff, brother of the groom, followed by Mr. Joe Rolfe White, Mr. Charles White, and Mr. Martin Rogers. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Frank Elkins, of Monroe, and Miss Ernie D. Carr, of Baton Rouge. Mrs. A. B. Cone served as matron-of-honor, Miss Dorothy White as maid-of-honor. They wore identical gowns, bouffant in effect, of nylon net, in pastel shades. Each carried a basket of exquisite mixed spring flowers, tied with multi-color satin in matching shades. Little Miss Gertrude Rolfe Cone served as flower girl and Master Andrew Benton Cone III, carried the ring upon a white pillow. They made an impressive picture as they walked down the aisle, Rolfe in a most becoming white nylon net, a replica of the maids, carrying the basket used in her grandmother's and parents' wedding, and Benton wearing a full dress suit, worn by Charles White in the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Windsor, 25 years ago.

Miss White was radiantly lovely as she entered the church, walking with her eldest brother, Mr. Warren Shelby White, Jr. She wore the traditional ivory duchess satin wedding gown, with fitted bodice, trimmed with real rose-point lace, embroidered in pearls, the handiwork of her mother. The long full skirt ended in a court train over which fell a finger tip veil of illusion, with coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a white Bible upon which rested a spray of white Bride's roses, and from the golden leaves of the book fell a cascade of hyacinths.

Mr. Charles McDuff served his brother as best man.

Reception

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, the historic home over a hundred years old, in which several generations of the bride's paternal family have lived. Mrs. White was assisted in receiving by Mrs. William Haight, mother of the groom. The perfume of spring blossoms pervaded the reception suite, as they lent their beauty to this old home, the scene of many happy gatherings.

The lovely home is completely furnished in antiques, with oil canvasses of Mrs. White adorning the walls, the atmosphere one of genuine southern hospitality.

Mrs. Warren White stood at the door to welcome the guests, assisted by Mrs. Roy Windsor. Mrs. White, in a gown of toast crepe, with identifical lace trimming, standing beside Mrs. Williams Haight, the groom's mother, wearing an exclusive model of rose lace with corsages of orchids, greeted the hundreds of guests who came to extend their heart-felt felicitations to this popular couple. The bride's book was presided over by Mrs. W. A. Porch cousin of the bride.

In the dining room where the beauty of spring flowers was again seen, the bride's table held the attention of all, as one viewed the exquisite wedding cake which centered the table, overlaid with handsome linen cutwork banquet cloth. Simplicity was the keynote of the decorations. The cake, a single heart, placed upon a mirror plaque, with a spray of roses, callas, and valley lilies, with wedding bells adorning its top, was surrounded by a frill of tulle. Interspersed were valley lilies and snowdrops, held with bows of tulle and glistening satin ribbon. Valley lilies also adorned the candles placed in silver candelabra, tied with identical bows of tulle and satin, burning throughout the evening, casting their radiance upon the scene of splendor. The punch bowls, placed on either end, were presided over by Miss Lucile Huffman, Mrs. Frank Rives, Mrs. C. C. Davenport, and Mrs. Warren White. Life-long friends of the bride assisted in the courtesies of the evening, each attractively attired in floor-length models with contrasting corsages. Mrs. Roy Windsor, Mrs. G. A. Hume, Mrs. Jessye Graves, Mrs. Sidney Strand, aunt of the bride, Mrs. Clyde Padgett, Mrs. W. H. McKelvey, Mrs. E. T. Davidson, Mrs. Oral Ginn, Mrs. C. E. Evans, Mrs. John McAdams, and Mrs. Elsie Montgomery.

The tea girls in exquisite frocks, passed among the guests silver trays with wedding cake. Serving in this capacity were Miss Opal Hobbs of Monroe, Miss Donna Bacon, Mrs. Billy Crowe, Mrs. Max Brodnax, Mrs. Clifford King, and Miss Gloria Carroll of Oak Ridge.

Mr. and Mrs. McDuff left later in the evening for a wedding trip.

The bride's traveling costume was an imported midget checked wool, ensemble, with which she wore a toast hat with cobra accessories. She wore the corsage from her wedding bouquet.

This lovely wedding claimed much interest in this section of the state and elsewhere in Louisiana, Arkansas, and Mississippi, with countless out-of-town guests attending.

The bride is the second daughter of Mrs. White, and the late Mr. White. She attended L. S. U., receiving her degree from the School of Music, a major in organ. She is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority, Sigma Alpha Iota, Music honorary, American Guild of Organists, Delta Rho Delta, and Quota Club, business women's clubs.

She has served as organist for her church since she was twelve. Since her graduation she has made her home in Monroe, and taught music there, Oak Ridge and her home town of Mer Rouge.

Mr. McDuff is the eldest son of Mrs. William Haight, and attended L. S. U. and Louisiana Tech, receiving his degree from the latter in engineering.

He was employed in Monroe until going into the service in September, 1950. He has been stationed at Ft. Sill, Okla., since that time, and if he remains there, Mrs. McDuff will join him at some future date.

At present she expects to continue her work.

Queen Nona Gay Williams Reigns Over Northeastern Military Ball

R. O. T. C. Cadet Club Sponsors Traditional Event At Progressive Men's Club

Cadets of Northeast Louisiana State College entertained in brilliant fashion Thursday evening when they celebrated with their traditional military ball. Miss Nona Gay Williams of Monroe ruled as queen over the festive affair at the Progressive Men's Club, Selman Field.

The event fulfilled all expectancy of an occasion marked by gaiety, color and variety of music played by the Stratoliners from Barksdale Field, Shreveport.

Two cadet clubs sponsored the dance, the Provost Corps and Homines Militaris Legis (military men of the law), directed respectively by Cadet Capt. Ezra L. Smith of Monroe and Cadet Capt. Olney J. White of Tallulah.

Participating in the evening's enjoyment were R. O. T. C. cadets and their dates, members of the college faculty and staff, their husbands and wives and special guests.

Termed one of the most spectacular formal affairs ever given by the college, the military department transformed the club into a galaxy of color and beauty.

The lowered ceiling of gold, maroon and green streamers was centered by a rotating irrilescent ball of light which cast interesting shadows as couples danced gracefully about the hall. The walls were emblazoned with insignia of various branches of service and divisions of the army, while flags in standards placed at intervals and hand painted placards of military figures completed an interesting effect.

Enhancing the beauty of the scene were arrangements of iris, orange blossoms and roses on the smaller refreshment tables that were festooned in vari - colored streamers.

Specialties on the evening's program were highlighted by the presentation of the queen of the ball and members of her court.

Heraiding the approach of royalty, an archway of sabres was formed by advanced cadets. Under this Queen Nona Gay, her maids and their escorts walked to the dais which was decorated in gay ribbons of paper. She was proclaimed "queen of the ball" by Cadet Lt. Col. Thomas E. Bearden, battalion commander, who placed a crown of white blossoms upon her head and presented her with a gift of silver.

As the couples advanced they were announced by Cadet. Capt. master of ceremonies. The queen was escorted by Gregory Le Blanc. Maids of the court and their escorts were: Miss Maurine Linquist and Harry Hubenthal; Miss Pat Ross and Harvey Guillot; Miss Martha Carolyn Upshaw and Gerald Nicholson; Miss Beverly Sue Hearne and Dick Evans; Miss Elizabeth Ann Doane and Gene Clark; Miss Lee Calhoun and Thomas E. Bearden.

Miss Dorothy Card and Harlan Prestridge; Miss Jane Evans and Herbert Peterson; Miss Sue Posey and Doyle Craighead; Miss Elizabeth Meredith and Robert Poe; Miss Ann Lacey and George Chambers; Miss Frances Prewitt and Lloyd Ray; Miss Jeanne Sawyer and Ted Jones.

As they approached the dais members of the queen's court formed a semi - circle on either side. After the coronation ceremony the dramatic scene changed to the formation of the grand march which entertained spectators with a bevy of dancers in colorful evening frocks and uniforms.

Throughout the evening punch and individual cakes embossed with the letters, R. O. T. C., were served from a candle-lit table, centered with beautiful iris and spirea.

'MEN ARE LIKE STREET CARS' TO BE PRESENTED BY NEVILLE SENIORS

Perhaps you have heard the expression "Women are like street cars." That is not true. This year the axiom will be "Men are like street cars," and everyone will know why after the Neville seniors perform on May 11 at the Neville auditorium.

The cast was selected last week, and they immediately began rehearsing under the direction of Mr. John Lacy. The assisting committees were organized also, and preparations for the big night are in full swing.

"Men are like Street Cars" can be described as a comedy that is light, gay, witty, and amusing. It is a play of young people portrayed by young people. The play shows how feminine characteristics are developed in an interesting style while it shows the younger generation budding into sophistication.

The leading role of Maudie is portrayed by Leora LeFores. Maudie constantly tries to show her friends that she is master of the complex subject, men. She knows and never hesitates to give all the answers. Maudie not only holds her own with young admirers, but she plays on the charms of older girls as well. Her vocabulary is years ahead of the dictionary, and her philosophy of life is as old and reliable as Eve's.

Maudie reckons her success according to the number and quality of her masculine conquests on the field where boy meets girl, and vice versa. The rest of her success belongs to her fool-proof line which is susceptible to variation in any emergency.

However, Maudie makes a terrible error when she tells her cousin Joy (who is non-magnetic to boys) the secrets of her charms. Maudie temporarily loses her own beau, Davy, together with the rest of friends. The picture brightens when Maudie finally learns the best line of all is the truth, but everyone thinks "Maudie telling the truth" is the biggest line of all.

"What's the use" says Maudie.

The New York Times review has written: "This is one of the most genuinely light-hearted comedies in recent seasons. A rollicking comedy of younger generation. The amorous experiments, triumphs, and misadventures of their sub-deb heroine are unfailingly diverting."

Tickets may be purchased from any Neville senior.

There are now some 40 or 50 branches of the Baker Street Irregulars in the United States. Bearing names associated with the Sherlock Holmes adventures, their members meet once a year to keep green the name of the great detective.

Classes On Outdoor Living Rooms To Be Given On Tuesday

'An outdoor living room should be developed as a definite part of every home ground" is the opinion of the agents with the agricultural extension department. "This provides a pleasant place for entertaining, rest, recreation and development of hobbies."

The agents believe that many people like a terrace paved with brick or other material. Certainly all families need stepping stones and outdoor benches. Because all of these can be made at home, the agents have requested the services of Mr. Robert Kay, associate engineer with the agricultural extension department. Mr. Kay will be at the agriculture building on Tuesday, April 24, at 2:00 p.m. to demonstrate making terraces, the mixing and using of cement for benches, tables, stepping stones, feeding troughs and other pieces of equipment needed around the home and on the farm.

Everybody is invited. If there is a heavy rain on Tuesday the demonstration will be postponed to a later date, since it is necessary to give the instruction outside.

Impressive Ceremony Takes Place In First Methodist Church Of Bernice On March 24

Miss Alice Raines Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Ernest Lindsey, Jr. of Bernice, became the bride of Mr. Carl Scott Simms, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Simms of Bonita, Louisiana.. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. L. P. Moreland of Bienville, La., March 24 at 5:45 o'clock in the afternoon at the First Methodist Church in Bernice, La.

The church was beautifully decorated in its simplicity. The choir loft was banked with wood wardia fern forming a background for the eight floor candelabras burning with white cathedral tapers. The altar was centered with a large sunburst arrangement of white gladioli flanked on either side by smaller similar arrangements.

Mrs. Arthur Scott at the piano rendered a program of nuptial music that included Leibestraum by Liszt, Claire de Lune by Debussy, Traumerei by Schumann while the guests were being seated by the ushers who were J. Donald Lindsey of Bernice, Arthur Scott Jr., of Monroe and Kenneth C. Smith of Baton Rouge. Mrs. Scott accompanied Mrs. George D. Grafton of Bernice who sang "At Dawning" and "Because."

Preceding the ceremony the candles were lighted by Suzonne Lindsey, sister of the bride and Mary Holt Myrick of Rayville, cousin of the bride. Their gowns were in coral nylon marquisette over tafta. They wore matching close fitting bonnets and mitts with arm corsages of picardy glads tied with pale green ribbon.

The bridal carpet of white was spread by the ushers for the bride and her attendants who entered in single file, Miss Virginia Smith of Rayville, maid of honor and the bridesmaids, Miss Carol Emerson of Monroe, cousin of the bride, Mrs. Vincent Madona of New Rhodes, sister of the groom and Miss Zoe Ann Poinbeouf, Logansport were identically gowned in coral nylon marquzette over taffeta, and carried muffs of pale green net centered with picardy glads with streamers of pale green ribbon. The full graceful skirts were fitted to a pointed bodice over which short bolero jackets were worn. Matching bonnets and mitts completed the ensembles.

Little Donna Lomax, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Lomax of Monroe, was wearing a gown identical to the attendants with a circle of coral tinted forget-me-nots in her hair. She scattered rose petals from a sterling silver basket tied with pale green ribbons and tulle for the entrance of the bride.

Miss Harris was escorted to the altar by her father where she was met by her bridegroom, Carl Scott Simms and his best man, Robert P. Dennis of Monroe. The bride was lovely in an original candlelight satin gown fashioned with a fitted bodice and portrait neckline of nylon tulle embroidered in seed pearls, bugle beads and irredesent paillettes. The veil of Swiss illusion, a creation by Aries, fell from a bonnet type headpiece of chantilly lace. Scattered over the veil were appliques of matching lace embroidered with seed pearls, crystal beads and irredesent pailletes to match the neckline of the dress and tiara. She carried an arm bouquet of white stephenotis tied with showers of white satin ribbon in the center of which nested a white orchid.

For something borrowed the bride carried an imported handkerchief belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. G. E. Lindsey, Sr. For somthing old she wore genuine pearl ear rings belonging to a close friend, Mrs. Melba McDonald. The lucky coin she wore in her shoe was also presented to her by Mrs. McDonald.

"To a Wild Rose" was played by Mrs. Scott throughout the marriage ceremony. Mrs. George D. Grafton sang "The Lord's Prayer" as a benediction as they knelt on a white satin altar cushion ruffled with tulle.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Lindsey chose a dress of aqua lace over taffeta with fitted bodice and softly flared skirt with long white evening gloves and a small hat of white nylon mesh covered with tiny flowers of aqua and yellow. Her corsage was an orchid.

Reception

Following the ceremony the couple was honored at a reception in the home of the bride's parents. The newly married couple, the bride's mother and girls of the wedding party received the guests in front of the lovely fireplace in the living room. Reflected in the mirror above the mantle were coral satin baskets with double wedding ring handles and filled with picardy glads, alternating with tall white burning tapers in crystal holders. Arrangements of Easter lilies, white iris and white spirea were placed about the room and on the piano. Mrs. Scott rendered a program of soft music during the reception.

The bride's table was overlaid with a candle light satin cloth with white net draped around the edge with white tulips and ferns centerting each scallop around the table. At one end of the table was the three tiered wedding cake topped with bouquets of candy sweetheart roses and lilies of the valley placed on a mirrored tray and surrounded by ferns and white tulips. Centering the table were two keepsake crystal toast glasses tied with white tulips and lilies of the valley and flanked on either side with sterling silver compotes filled with mints in the bridal motif. A crystal opergne filled with white carnations, fern and burning white tapers graced the other end of the table. Mrs. William Ackel of Natchitoches served the cake assisted by Mrs. P. K. Smith of Hodge and Miss Joan Johnson of Bernice. Mrs. Charles W. Kramer of Shreveport presided at the punch table. Miss Kathryn Myrick of Rayville presided at the bride's book. Others assisting in the courtesies of the evening were Mrs. E. B. Green, Haynesville, Mrs. Don Lomax, Monroe, Mrs. George Grafton and Mrs. G. B. Cagle of Bernice.

Following the reception the couple left on their wedding trip to the Ozarks. For traveling the bride wore a navy faille suit with velvet trim with blue and white accessories. Her corsage was an orchid from her bridal bouquet. On their return the couple will make their home in San Antonio, Tex. where the groom is employed by the United States security command.

The bride is a graduate of All Saints Episcopal college of Vicksburg, Miss. She attended L. S. U. where she was affiliated with Kappa Delta sorority, and holds her B. REVIEW CLUB MEETS IN THE HOME OF MRS. J. P. NOEL

The Review Club held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. J. P. Noel on Monday. Mrs. E. P. Cudd, a charter member of the club, gave a brief report on the history of the Review Club which was organized in 1929.

Mrs. DeWitt Henry impressively installed the following officers for the coming year: president, Mrs. W. L. Mitchell, Jr.; vice-president, Mrs. A. T. Givens; secretary, Mrs. L. N. Waddell; treasurer, Mrs. Corbin Turpin; member of the advisory board, Mrs. Durwood Griffin.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Givens introduced Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Gray who reviewed the two books of the afternoon.

Mrs. W. T. Davis reviewed "Alaska, Land of Tomorrow" by Edward A. Herron. Mrs. Davis said in part: "Edward A. Herron has lived in Alaska much of the time since 1935. In this book he gives a stimulating picture of Alaska now and its real prospects for the future. He shows Alaska as a constantly changing scene each season, each month, bringing new life and new problems to this rich and vital land. May is spring, even in Alaska. In Nome, there is a growing impatience with ice still locked tightly in the sound. Fairbanks is seething with activities of mining companies rushing supplies out to the creeks. Swarms of trolling boats are chugging out to get their share of the incoming tide of salmon. In fact in spring, as well as any other season, the whole territory of Alaska is astir with new life."

Mr. Herron presents hard-hitting descriptions of opportunities as they exist today, opportunities that other men and women have tested and found good. Alaska invites both the present-day pioneer and the tourist to one of the few untouched lands of opportunity and beauty left in the world today.

"Hawaii, A History" by Ralph S. Kuykendall and A. Grove Day was reviewed by Mrs. C. P. Gray Jr. This book is primarily a history, and the authors "have given us in one volume the detailed account of events that have taken Hawaii from the stone age to the atomic age in a few generations. Its life from a native monarchy to a polyracial republic to an American territory is an inspiration to believers in progress. The mainsprings of Hawaii s prosperity have been trade, industry and agriculture. The creation of this great commonwealth at the crossroads of the Pacific is of interest not only to the residents of Hawaii and to students of history or even to those who visit its shores but all who are concerned about the fitness of Hawaii's people to become citizens of a new state should be interested in this book, particularly in the later chapters which tell of Hawaii's position in the post-war world."

At the close of the meeting a pleasant social hour was enjoyed by the following members: Mrs. W. L. Alexander, Mrs. C. B. Braun, Mrs. J. K. Brothers, Jr., Mrs. B. B. Cobb, Mrs. E. P. Cudd, Mrs. W. T. Davis, Mrs. C. P. Gray, Jr., Mrs. Durwood Griffin, Mrs. DeWitt Henry, Mrs. A. R. Holloway, Mrs. W. B. Inabnet, Mrs. W. L. Mitchell, Jr., Mrs. Lea Thompson, Mrs. L. N. Waddell and a guest, Mrs. Taichman.

REHEARSAL SUPPER HONORS WHITE-M'DUFF BRIDAL PARTY

The pre-nuptial courtesies showered upon Miss Genevieve White, culminated in a most delightful affair when on Saturday evening, March 24, Mr. and Mrs. Warren White, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rolfe White, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles White, entertained the bridal party and close friends and relatives at the lovely country home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren White.

The dinner hour was set after rehearsal, that friends might linger in joyous fellowship.

The reception suite reflected the Easter season with the wedding theme predominant. Gorgeous flower arrangements of white carnations, stock and iris were placed about the suite where covers were placed for forty guests, an Easter egg marking the plate of each.

Dinner was served buffet style, consisting of baked ham, molded salad, asparagus, crystalized apples, a variety of relishes and appetizers, hot rolls and butter, and strawberry shortcake, topped with whipped cream.

The informality of the occasion with Genevieve's brother effeciently playing the role of "butler" or "waiter" added to the festivities as repartee, gay with wit was exchanged.

The bride's table was most impressive, a lovely silver epergne overflowing with spring flowers in white, with a groom facing the bride-to-be, while on the opposite end of the table stood a beautiful bride, who, could she have faced the groom, would have completed the happiness of the bride—but Uncie Sam demanded too much of the groom's time for him to arrive for the dinner. He had called from Shreveport before the dinner hour, however, so it was a joyous occasion and soon afterwards he was met in Monroe by his bride-to-be.

Gifts to the attendants, cuff links for the men, hand painted milk glass plates for the girls were presented.

To the flower girl, Rolfe Cone, niece of the bride, a string of pearls, and cow-boy accessories to the ring-bearer, Benton Cone III.

Miss White looked beautiful in a charming creation of black taffeta with strapless fitted bodice of lace over flesh chiffon, the skirt cut circular, cocktail length. A smart bolero completed the striking model. Its beauty was enhanced by an exquisite corsage of Golden Dawn roses, the gift of her hostesses.

A handsome silver dinner dish in "Remembrance" was presented their sister by the charming hosts and hostesses.

Enjoying this occasion were beside the honoree, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Cone, Rolfe and Benton, of Wilmot, Mrs. William Haight, Monroe, Miss Ernie D. Carr, Baton Rouge, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Elkins, Monroe, Miss Dorothy White, Mr. Charlie McDuff, Mr. Jack McDuff, Mr. Martin Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Tipton, Rev. and Mrs. R. W. Vaughn, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Porch, of Little Rock, Rev. Clyde Shaw, Mr. Charles Stovall, Monroe, Mrs. Shelby White, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Windsor, Mr. John Rolfe Windsor, Mr. and Mrs. Clare Clark, and Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Sims.

THE MANGHAM LITERARY CLUB ENTERTAINED IN BOUGHTON HOME

Members were welcomed into the home of Mrs. R. B. Boughton in Mangham, on Tuesday night of this week when she graciously entertained the Literary Club, assisted by Mrs. John F. Boughton as co-hostess

Highlights of the district meeting held in Sicily Island was given and well-deserved praise awarded our fifth district president, Miss Bessie Noble, who presided at the meeting.

Mrs. Theo Jones, leader of the program, took charge and presented Mrs. Bob Bell, who gave a sketch of the life of John James Audubon, famed naturalist. Audubon was born in France and immigrated to this country early in life. He traveled through the states painting and studying birds in their natural habit. Audubon is considered by most people as the greatest ornithologist. About the only criticism that can be found of his paintings by persons other than the trained ornithologist is that they perhaps a little too colorful or presented in a too striking pose, one not naturally assumed by the bird.

Mrs. Beunie Boughton gave a few brief and interesting remarks about Pierre Gustave Toutant Beauregard, one of the most noted generals of the Confederate army. He was born in St. Bernard parish, Louisiana, a descendent of French families. He graduated from West Point in 1838 with second highest honors in the class. In 1861 he was appointed superintendent of the academy at West Point. He was in command of the Confederate forces at Charleston, S. C. and it was by his order that the first shot of the great Civil War was fired on April 12, 1861 at 4:30 a.m. He was very active during the bitter struggle and surrendered in April 1865. He spent the rest of his life in civil pursuits, his only military service being that of adjutant-general of Louisiana. He died Feb. 20, 1893, the last survivor of the full generals of the Confederate army.

Mrs. Reese Boies gave some pertinent remarks regarding citizenship, a democracy and voting qualifications. After her discussion, Mrs. Boies asked the group a few questions which were answered in open discussion. This presentation proved both interesting and highly informative.

With the reading of the club collect in unison, the club was dismissed.

The Messrs. Boughtons served delicious refreshments to the club members and to Mrs. John C. Kenton, a guest and a member of the Alto Cultural Club.

This meeting closes the regular club year as the next meeting will be purely social and will be held in the school cafeteria in Mangham.

Girl Scout News

The fourth grade Brownie Scouts of Troop 10 consider themselves very lucky for they had an unusual treat on their last meeting day. Miss Emmy Lou Biedenharn had invited them to visit her lovely garden. Rain had caused a postponement the week before, increasing the eagerness of the girls, their leaders, Mrs. S. C. Simpson and Mrs. J. W. Young, report. Miss Biedenharn told the story of the statuary and pointed out the unusual plants that might interest young girls.

Have you ever seen a jack-in-the-pulpit? Well, these girls have, and the flower really looks like a little man under the canopy of a pulpit. And a pitcher plant? The flower stays open until an insect crawls in. Then the plant closes up, trapping the insect, which furnishes food for the plant. Other plants which Miss Biedenharn pointed out as being of special interest to the girls were mountain laurel, which doesn't usually flourish in our climate, the old-fashioned sweet shrub and rabbit tracks.

Everybody goes to the library, but we doubt that everyone knows about all of the services of our parish library. The intermediate scouts of Troop 18 can tell you, for they visited the library at their regular meeting Wednesday. Miss Flanders showed the girls around and answered their questions. The girls were especially interested in the ceiling projector which the library lends to bed-ridden people, Mrs. Louis Kusin and Mrs. W. R. Crow, their leaders, tell us.

We know of 24 intermediate Scouts and a few little brothers and sisters who are sold on the opportunities for fun that will be available at the new troop camp. That many representatives of intermediate troops attended the April meeting of the girl planning board held at camp. Of course, the girls will go back to troop meetings and tell about the fun that is in store for campers at the site. Accompanying the girls were Mrs. W. V. Roy, Mrs. Robert Easterling, Mrs. N. L. Huckabee, of the camp committee, Mrs. W. . Adams of the training committee, Mrs. A. W. Wiley and Mrs. W. B. Hilburn, leaders and our executive director.

The planning board discussed plans for summer program, which will include cooking, sewing, swimming, day camp and troop camping. Girls who represented their troops at the meeting are: Jeannie Sue Thompson, Juliana Hales, Janis Hilburn, Jane Hammons, Jimmie Elliott, Frances Shirah, Ingrid Peterson, Frances Rowland, Patricia Ann Davis, Gerrie Dickerson, Carol Adams, Sally Ryan, Lori Harris, Elaine Williams, Neva Lyons, Kay Cotton, Yvonne Huckagee, Janis Joyce, Trudy Baugh, Kathryn Talton, Mary Dee Gregory, and Susan Wilson.

It is good to hear that the camp is being used, even though construction has not been completed. Troops 4 and 27 were to have had a joint cookout yesterday—planned on some new tricks, we heard. Hope they got to go.

NEWS FROM THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

Interesting books of all types have recently been added to the collection of the Ouachita Parish Public Library. These books may be borrowed by applying at any of the four branches of the library. The Monroe branch is located at 418 Jackson street. The West Monroe branch is at 106 Cypress street in West Monroe. The bookmobile covers the area outside the limits of the two cities. It runs on a regular schedule and repeats its runs every two weeks. If you do not know when the bookmobile will be in your neighborhood call the Ouachita Parish Public Library, and ask for information. The Carver branch is the newest one in the system. It is for the use of the colored people of the parish and is located at 116 North tenth street in Monroe.

In thinking of new books let us look first at some of the new nonfiction titles. If you are interested in international affairs and especially in diplomatic matters you will want to read two absorbing titles. They are "Seven Decisions That Shaped History" by Sumner Welles and "Design For War" by Frederick Rockwell Sanborn. Two fascinating stories with foreign settings are: "My Patients Were Zulus" by John B. McCord and "Pacific Hopscotch" by Sister Maria Del Rey. The first book is concerned with the adventures of a medical missionary in Africa and the second one deals with the adventures of the Maryknoll nuns in the Pacific. A biography which has been extremely popular is "His Eye Is On The Sparrow" the true story of Ethel Waters This is a book about a courageous woman and will be well liked.

One of the most progressive countries in the world today is Sweden. A beautiful new book, which was a gift to the library is "Sweden, Model for a World" by Hudson Strode. People are very eager to borrow books which help them in their vocation or avocation. Several new ones of that type are available. "How to Test Readability" by Rudolf Flesch should appeal to anyone who writes as part of their daily work. "So You're Going to Make a Speech" by James Lee Ellenwood should be required reading for every person who intends to face an audience. "How to Give a Fashion Show" by Frieda Steinman Curtis will be in great demand in a locality where fashion shows are very popular. "Flower Decoration for The Home" by Violet Stevenson is a beautiful book of flower arrangements and will be widely read. There are so many people in this parish who are interested in ranch life that "Life On The King Ranch" by Frank Goodwyn should be widely read. The King ranch in Texas is the largest ranch in the world and life on it is almost unbelievable. "Big Hugh, The Father of Conservation" by Wellington Brink presents a picture of the man who did much for American agriculture.

People interested in genealogy will be glad to know that four new titles, all gifts have been added to that collection. They are :The Marriage Records of Morehouse Parish from 1868 to 1881" copied by the Abram Morehouse chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. "The Genealogical Records of the Mary Little Deere Chapter D. A. R. in Illinois." This collection contains information about births, deaths and marriages; the third book is "Annals of Newberry" by Judge John Belton O'Neall. This book is a history of Newberry, S. C., and is an invaluable source of information.

The fourth book of this type is "Some Early Tax Digests of Georgia." This contains lists of people who paid taxes in Georgia during the early days. If your ancestors came from Georgia, you can probably find them listed here.

There are numbers of new books of fiction, which will be reviewed in this column next Sunday. Remember this is your library, if you are not a registered borrower, do not delay another week.

Miss Phyllis Jean White Is Bride Of William Eyre

First Methodist Church Is Scene Of Impressive-Ceremony

A wedding characterized by lovely simplicity, and one that was attended by relatives and friends took place at the First Methodist Church, March 21, when Miss Phyllis Jean White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Blaisn D. White became the bride of William Eyre, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Eyre of West Monroe, a' seven o'clock in the evening. The Rev. Jack Midyette officiated.

The altar was decorated with baskets of white gladioli overflowing from the tall pedestal vases placed at vantage points with myriad cathedral tapers burning in tall floor candelabra. Southern smilax and huckleberry fern entwined the chancel rail. The tapers were lighted while the organist, Miss Evelyn Durden, rendered a prenuptial concert. She accompanied the soloist, Miss Ella Jean Mosley, who sang in beautiful voice, "Yours is My Heart Alone," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Miss Sue Hunt of West Monroe read, "How Do I Love Thee," by Elizabeth Barrett Browning.

Mrs. Thomas Foster, was matron of honor, from Denver City, Tex. She wore a yellow taffeta tight basque waist with low neckline and full skirt of net over taffeta.

Bridesmaids were Ruthie May Wilkerson of Perryville and Anna Joyce Eyre of West Monroe, sister of the groom. They wore green taffeta gowns with bouffant skirts of nylon net, exact replicas of the matron of honor. Each carried a bouquet of ranunculus tied with copper colored ribbons. They wore net caps with flowers tied on each side.

The two little flower girls were cousins of the groom. They were Miss Joyce Ruth Farcht of Haynesville, and Miss Nancy Zimmer of Bastrop. Their dresses were fashioned of pink net over pink taffeta, with square yokes of white net and two white ruffles on the skirt. They carried nosegays of roses and wore net caps fashioned of rosebuds on either side.

The ring bearer was Master Lloyd Cole, Jr., of Fairbanks. He was dressed in a white linen suit and carried the rings fastened on a white satin pillow.

The groomsmen were Sam Brashers of Monroe, and Edgar Hawkins, Jr. of Bastrop. Mr. Jack Smith of Monroe served the groom as best man. They were wearing tuxedos.

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. She was lovely in her long white gown of slipper satin with chantilly lace yoke, and full net skirt. The basque waist was of satin with tiny covered buttons and tight fitting sleeves ending in points over the hands. For something old, she wore a gold locket which had been a family heirloom, given to her by Mrs. Billie Givens, who had worn it on her wedding day.

Her veil was borrowed from Mrs. Foster, who served as matron of honor. She was carrying a white orchid with streamers of tulle tied with white hyacinths and topping a white satin Bible.

The mother of the bride was wearing a navy crepe with white accessories, and white corsage. Mrs. Eyre, mother of the groom, chose for this occasion, a lovely pink crepe with orchid and pink accessories and her corsage was of hyacinths.

The reception was held in the church parlor immediately following the ceremony, with the Lucille McParce Sunday School class as hosts.

The bride's table was overlaid with a lace tablecloth centered with a large crystal bowl, overflowing in white iris and bridal wreath. On either side was placed tall slender candles burning in crystal candelabra tied with white ribbons. At one end of the table was the four-tiered wedding confection, embossed in roses and green leaves, topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Mrs. Earl Webb of Perryville cut and served the cake. Miss Vivian Hawkins presided at the punch bowl.

Mrs. Allen Pomeroy, the Sunday School teacher, served as hostess.

For her wedding trip to Little Rock, Ark., Mrs. Eyre was wearing a navy wool suit with white accessories. Upon their return they will be at home to their friends in West Monroe.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

By Oswald Jacoby

How To Dominate Discard Pile

By Oswald Jacoby

Once your side gets control of the discard pile your primary objective is to retain this control throughout a long and pleasant hand. The opponents will try to break this control, and they have three methods at their disposal.

The first method is to meld out and end your picnic. You cannot prevent this, but you don't have to help them. The way most people help them is by taking too many small discard piles once they have established control. This gives the opponents more draws from the chance to improve their hands. Remember that as long as the discard pile is not going to get away from you there is no hurry about taking it.

The second way they have to break your control is to freeze the pile. If you rush to meld everything possible, your side will be down to a few cards and the opponents will be able to freeze the pile. Thereupon you will not take the discard pile any more that hand.

When you have control of the discard pile you should hold up your meldable cards until the opponents are about to go out. Once they appear to be close to out you should get your melds down. The party is over and you want to score what you can.

The third defense is for one of the opponents to grab the discard pile. If you and your partner play carefully there is very little chance of this happening. When it does, they have disrupted your squeeze.

Q—What is meant by melds "of the same rank" in the official laws? I am told that you cannot make separate melds in the same rank, but this is not clear to me.

A—Cards of the same rank are those that bear the same number or the same picture. For example, all kings are of the same rank, or all nines, and so on. A seven and a six are of two different ranks.

The meaning of the law is that you cannot have two separate melds of kings (for example). If you accidentally put down a meld of three kings when you already have a meld of kings on the table, you must add the two melds together and make them a combined meld.

Are you sure on the latest meld rules? It's easy to look them up and be certain when you have a copy of Jacoby's 1951 International Laws of Canasta. For your copy of this complete rule book, send 15 cents in coin with your name and address to Oswald Jacoby (name your paper), P. O. Box 438, Times Square Station, New York 18, N. Y.

MRS. HENRY MENUET HOSTESS TO MEMBERS OF READER'S CLIQUE

Mrs. Henry Menuet was hostess to members of the Reader's Clique at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club Thursday afternoon.

A short business meeting was presided over by the vice-president, Mrs. Ivy Jordan. Mrs. G. L. Morgan read the minutes of the previous meeting.

The program chairman, Mrs. Menuet, introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Earl Stovall. Mrs. Stovall, in a very interesting manner, reviewed "Miracle at Carville" by Betty Martin.

This is the inspiring story of Betty Martin, a girl of magnificent courage, a girl who for twenty years fought dread leprosy; a girl who gave up her freedom, her fiance and all she loved to fight disease, despair and prejudice, and who won despite the odds.

"Miracle at Carville" is also the fighting story of the attempt of the patients at Carville, and of the broadminded, forward - looking scientiests and citizens of the United States, to disseminate accurate factual information concerning leprosy, now scientifically recognized . Hansens disease. For example, leprosy is practically impossible to transmit and patients can most assuredly be cured—which would once and for all sweep away the persecutions of fear and ignorance which these blameless sick have too long endured.

At the conclusion of the meeting delicious refreshments were served to the following members and guests: Mrs. T. F. Wilson, Mrs. Raymond John, Mrs. Stanley Archibald, Mrs. Evans Ethridge, Mrs. G. L. Morgan, Mrs. Ivy Jordan, Mrs. Oliver Lowery, Mrs. Clay Albright, Mrs. Jimmie Harbuck, Mrs. Ray Updegraff, Mrs. Louis Peters, Mrs. Henry Menuet, Mrs. Earl Stovall, and Mrs. H. H. Holloway, Jr., of Baton Rouge.

In Hollywood

Hollywood, April 21.—Recent developments make it plain that any studio worker who, having been summoned before the un-American activities committee, refuses to answer questions about his associations with the Communist party, is going to have trouble—lots of trouble—in finding employment in the movie industry. Certainly I have no quarrel with the studio bosses for denying employment to such individuals; I consider them a menace to the industry and to the United States. I don't think they deserve employment, and I was one of the first in Hollywood to express that opinion. But, at the same time, it seems to me that there's a smattering of hypocrisy in the attitude now taken by the studios. It's the "timing" that's out of kilter.

I'm completely convinced that not one Hollywoodite has yet been named as a Communist in the current hearings whose Red affiliations have not been known, for a long, long, time, to the studio bosses. But do you find that the movie industry, which now prides itself so vociferously on its cooperation with the committee, has taken any steps to rule those known Commies out? You do not. On the contrary, you find from the testimony offered that some of the most active Reds on the list have been steadily employed in very lucrative jobs, up to the very moment that they were handed subpenas. For instance, Scenarist Paul Jarrico, identified by at least three witnesses as one of the most vehement Commies in Hollywood. It is inconceivable to me that any studio executive in this business would have been ignorant of Jarrico's sentiments and activities—yet the day that he was handed his summons found him writing a script for a major studio and prepared, I have no doubt, to donate a percentage of his pay to the Communist party.

By continuing to pass out responsible jobs to men like Jarrico until they are actually summoned before the committee, it seems to me that the studio toppers have placed themselves in a rather unfavorable light. Apparently they have been perfectly willing to tolerate Communists — unless the Communists are exposed by someone else.

Preview nights: Pic of the week: Metro - Goldwyn - Mayer's "The Great Caruso" (Mario Lanza-Ann Blyth-Dorothy Kirsten - Jarmila Novotna-Blanche Thebom). A new mile post in the production of filmusicals. Combining great music with absorbing human-interest drama, it's tops for entertainment value, and deserves a prominent place on the "must see" list of every discriminating fan. . . . Excellent: Warner Brothers' "Captain Horatio Hornblower" (Gregory Peck-Virginia Mayo - Robert Beatty-James R. Justice). One of modern literature's best sea stories translated to the screen so deftly that it promises to be one of the sea pictures. . . . Good: Universal-International's "Smuggler's Island" (Jeff Chandler - Evelyn Keyes-Philip Friend). Fast-moving melodrama, well-acted, well-produced and a best-bet for adventure fans . . . Warner Brothers' "Goodbye, My Fancy" (Joan Crawford-Robert Young - Eve Arden-Frank Lovejoy-Janice Rule). A full-flavored screen version of one of Broadway's better plays, and a gilt-edged entertainment buy for feminine theatre-goers. . . . Fair: Azteca's "Rancho Grande" (Jorge Negrete-Trio Calavaras - Lilia del Valle). A made-in-Mexico filmusical with sufficient novelty appeal to offset its obvious flaws. . . . Best performance: Gregory Peck in "Captain Horatio Hornblower."

Maybe I'm just stupid, but I can't understand why the management of the Metropolitan Grand Opera should be so peevish because Robert Merrill "condescended" to play a singing role in a Hollywood filmusical. Rather, I think that the Met bosses should be rejoicing. Merrill, in addition to his great operatic voice, has good looks and tremendous personal charm. His role in Paramount's "Aaron Slick from Punkin Crick" is certain to bring him a host of fans. Furthermore, since the role permits him to sing some very fine music, including one operatic aria, it would seem to me that by turning movie actor he's very apt to interest a few million American movie goers in good music. In recent years, the Metropolitan has been getting too haughty for either its own good, or the good of American music.

One of my fellow columnists, in reviewing movies, has always awarded "orchids" to the good ones, and "scallions" to the ones he considers interior. After my latest experience in our neighborhood vegetable market, I think he should revise his ratings. Green spring onions—scallions, if you please—were fifteen cents a bunch, and the bunches were remarkably small. I think the orchids should go to the flops, and the scallions to the super-colossals.

The Monroe District W. S. C. S. Meets For Annual Spring Session

The Monroe district W. S. C. S. met in its annual spring session at the Ferriday Methodist Church, Thursday, April 12. Mrs. Hervie Moak, president presiding.

The theme of this meeting was: "Supplement Your Faith." Rev. Don Alverson of the Ferriday Methodist gave the devotional. This was followed by progress reports from all the district officers led by Mrs. Wade Cotton, secretary of promotion

A stirring message was brought to the group by Miss Lydis Gerhart, field secretary of the woman's division of the W. S. C. S. She said in part, "geographically we are divided into east and west, north and south, but in heart and in spirit we are united in a common cause: To build a world Christian community. The need for additional Christian workers continues, and recruitment is carried on especially in local churches, thus credit belongs to every woman in the conference and division who seeks to acquaint the youth of our land with opportunities for service at home and abroad. Missionaries need to be highly qualified for they represent both Christ and America.

She described in detail and with much pathos and humor her experiences in social settlement work in America. She has served in some of our largest metropolitan areas, and no member present was left unmoved at the conclusion of her talk.

A generous sacrificial offering was received for work in Korea.

Mrs. D. C. Metcalf read a memorial service for the W. S. C. S. members who have died during the year. She paid high tribute for their valuable service.

The next order of business was the election of officers for the new year. The following were elected:

Secretary of organization and promotion, Mrs. M. L. DeFreese; vice-president, Mrs. H. F. Boyd; recording secretary, Mrs. R. G. Taylor; secretary of missionary education and service, Mrs. Don Alverson; secretary of literature and publications, Mrs. C. L. Taylor; secretary of Christian social relations and local church activities, Mrs. C. R. Brown; secretary of supplies, Mrs. Wade Cotton; secretary of spiritual life, Mrs. R. L. Clayton.

These officers were installed by the W. S. C. S. field secretary, Miss Lydia Gerhart, in an impressive ceremony.

The registration committee showed a total attendance of 134 members from 27 societies.

The ladies of the Ferriday Church served a lunch at the noon hour. Mrs. R. G. Taylor was the recording secretary on this occasion.

Carroll Woman's Club Has March Meeting At 'Doefield Plantation'

March meeting of the Carroll Woman's Club was held at the legion home, on bayou Tensas, with Martin Yost, supervisor of children's services, state department of public welfare, the guest speaker.

Mr. Yost discussed the services available to children of the state, and pointed out that Louisiana compared favorably with other states of the union at the White House conference.

The foster home program, adoption law, juvenile court, children institutions, and aid to dependent children, all of which are administered through the department of public welfare, with the exception, of course, of the juvenile court, were fully explained by Mr. Yost.

He further commented on one of the unmet needs that he would like to see more stress put upon, or done for, and that was in the educational program for the 10 per cent below average in mentality in our schools.

In East Carroll parish the department of public welfare has assigned a court worker to assist the district judge, who is the juvenile judge also. She is helping the judge determine to satisfaction of a mother and the court as to whether a father can support his children, in cases of divorce.

Future plan for East Carroll parish is to establish a detention home for children with residence on short time basis, while permanent plans are being made for the children's permanent placement. This home is to be used by the court and the welfare department.

Judge Frank Voelker, contributing to the afternoon program, advised on handling delinquent boys and girls, and gave great credit to the district penal farm, located in East Carroll, for their help in rehabilitating the youth of this section.

M. M. Walsworth, parish superintendent of schools and W. W. Ward, parish supervisor, contributed valued remarks to the program.

A delightful social hour concluded the worthwhile program. Guests included Miss Elizabeth Kehr, Tallulah, Mrs. Vail Delony, Mrs. W. H. Parker, Mrs. Ogden Russell, Mrs. R. E. McClendon, Mrs. J. P. Davis, Mrs. F. M. Terral, and members, Mrs. T. J. Slagle, Mrs W. H. Maben, Mrs. R. S. Reed, Mrs. W. T. Tullos, Mrs. Grady Wyly, Mrs George Cooper, and Mrs. W. T. Mitchiner. The hostesses were Mrs. Brady Oswalt, Mrs. Earl Oswalt, Mrs. W. B. Ragland, Miss Velera Cammack, and Mrs. R. N. Amacker.

Miss Jane Workman Is Guest Artist At Music Guild Meeting

Tallulah, La., April 20.—(Special)—Miss Jane Workman, a music student of All Saints Junior College in Vicksburg, was the guest artist at the monthly meeting of the Music Club held at the home of Mrs. Dave Kaufman. As leader of the program, Mrs. Lamar T. Lee read a paper prepared by Mrs. R. L. Bailey on the history of the piano and its development. She then introduced Miss Workman who delighted the audience with the beautiful rendition of her several numbers in which she showed marked talent and musicianship. Her program is as follows: Fantasia in C sharp minor by Bach; Sonata by Beethoven; Sandman by the modern composer, Mulfinger; Rhapsody by Dohnanyi; Butterfly Etude by Lavalier; and as a request encore, a Chopin Waltz.

Mrs. Watson McDonald presided at the business session when it was announced that the annual spring concert will feature the Ouachita Parish High School Glee Club and choir in a concert.

A delightful social hour followed the program when the guests were invited into the dining room where the refreshment table was most attractive with a beautiful flower arrangement flanked by gleaming candles in silver holders. Mrs. A. L. Sevier presided at the silver service where tea and coffee were served with the dainty and delicious sandwiches and confections. Other hostesses included Miss Lunn Dean Spears and Mrs. J. C. Lee.

When Gen. Ulysses S. Grant went to West Point, he disliked the idea intensely.

SPEAKING OF NEW SAFETY FEATURES

have you driven the new Plymouth?

HAVE YOU TRIED THE NEW "SAFETY-FLOW RIDE"? It's a new experience. You strike a bump or hole in the road unexpectedly--nothing happens. You're not tossed or thrown off balance. You continue in a level flow of motion, the car steering easily, holding the road firmly. This added safety results from a completely new use of hydraulics (the new Oriflow shock absorbers) combined with other engineering advances.

Equipment and trim are subject to availability of materials.

WIDER VISION. Plymouth styling has always stressed good, safe vision, and this year it's even better. Front corner posts have been made narrower, so you can see more to the front and sides. The rear window has 15% more area. The mirror has been made larger to take in this wider rear view.

THE NEW ELECTRIC WINDSHIELD WIPERS, standard equipment, add to the safety of driving because they don't slow down when you step on the gas, but continue at a constant rate.

NEW INSTRUMENT PANEL. It's designed for safety as well as attractiveness. The dials are reflection-proof and located in one easy-to-read group. The controls are right where you want them.

SAFETY IS ONE OF THE GREAT EXTRA VALUES built into a Plymouth. You get such advantages as Safety-Rim Wheels that keep a tire firmly on the rim in case of a blowout . . . Safe-Guard Hydraulic Brakes with two extra hydraulic cylinders at the front wheels for smoother, more predictable stops . . . and many other examples of engineering that protect you and your family. Why not let your Plymouth dealer tell you more-- and demonstrate the new Plymouth? Stop in and see him soon.

HANDSOME EDIFICE IN USE TODAY

1st Christian Church Dedicates Sanctuary

The handsome Gothic-style cathedral type sanctuary of the First Christian Church will be formally dedicated at 10:30 a.m. today. Although of moderate size, it presents a unique and beautiful type sanctuary, designed by Merl Padgett, of the firm of Smith and Padgett, Monroe architects. It has still some finishing touches required and has already cost $80,000.

At the worship service at 10:30 o'clock this morning, the pastor, Rev. R. T. Watson, will preach the dedicatory sermon which will be entitled: "We Have Built A Church." He will be assisted at this service by Dr. E. H. Reed, Shreveport, and Dr. E. K. Means. Rabbi F. K. Hirsch will pronounce the benediction.

M. L. Padgett, architect and chairman of the church board, will formally accept the building from I. H. Garland, general contractor. Open house will be conducted by the ladies of the C. W. F. from 3 to 5 p.m. when the public is cordially bidden to visit the new edifice.

An ordinance service will be conducted at 7:30 p.m. during which the symbolism in the building will be explained. Baptisms will be administered and the Lord's Supper observed.

Ground was broken for this sanctuary at the southeast corner of St. John and Oak streets, June 11, 1950. Delay in securing materials has occasioned the slowed down construction.

The sanctuary has a total of 102 feet frontage on St. John street, and is 95 feet in depth. The exterior is red skintled brick veneer with stone trimmings. The roof has asbestos shingled effect. The building is insulated, walls are plastered and there is acoustic ceiling.

The impressive vestibule has broken tile floor and overhead are low wooden ceiling beams. At one side of the vestibule is the choir room which also is to be used when required at a wedding as a retiring room.

The ornate and beautiful sanctuary entered from the vestibule is 30 feet wide and 60 feet in length. There is provision for the seating of 250 in the pews that were specially ordered of a design well suited to this church.

Open hammer bear tresses of hand hewn wood are utilized. There is a deep chancel with a choir stall on either side. On one side is the lectern and on the other side the pulpit. The communion table is elevated two steps. The alcove is large and a velour Dorsal cloth completely hides the baptistry. The chancel is beautifully carpeted and the floors aside from the chancel and throughout the building are of asphalt tile.

A feature of the sanctuary is the high ceiling which is 30 feet tall and adds to the impressiveness of the place. Also cloisters of six columns are on each side of the sanctuary, which are symbolic of the 12 apostles. Open wood hammer beam trusses are utilized. The head of each column in colors represent the apostolic shield.

Leaded stained glass windows admit a soft light by day into the beautiful sanctuary. Six handsome suspended lantern type fixtures illuminate the room with indirect lighting, one being suspended from each truss.

The pastor's study leads off from the chancel and has an outside entrance.

The building will be airconditioned so as to be comfortable at all times in heated summer conditions.

The new church edifice adjoins, through an open cloister of three arches, the old building. It also fronts on an interior open court which will be improved with flowers and a fountain some time this summer. The old building is to be revamped and shortly made suited to the requirements of an educational building at a cost that will doubtless entail a further expenditure of about $14,000.

Of special interest is the fact that the state convention of these churches is scheduled for Monroe on May 20 and the people of this church will be quite pleased to act as host and entertain in this fine new building.

ST. FRANCIS TO BUILD SHORTLY

Expects To Be Ready For New Construction This Summer

St. Francis Sanitarium announced during the week that steady progress is being made in connection with its contemplated building and expansion program. It is expected that preliminary plans for the project, drawn by Smith and Padgett, architects, will be approved this month. Actual start of the project is expected during the summer.

Solicitation of funds from friends of the hospital is continuing and new contributions and pledges are being received every week. Although the goal of $600,000, sought by the leaders in the campaign for funds, has not been reached, it is anticipated that many more substantial donations will be received when construction begins.

In preparation for actual construction, the Nursing School building is being renovated for the acceptance of patients. An elevator has already been installed and engineers are now installing signal lights and other electrical equipment necessary for patient care. During construction of the new building, certain types of patients will be cared for in the Nursing School, a modern and up-to-date building with some 50 rooms on three floors.

The architects, Smith and Padgett, of Monroe, have assembled and checked all available data on hospital construction in order to have the new building as modern and efficient as possible. The placing of facilities and equipment on the floors and in the areas provided is the problem now being decided on by the hospital officials.

TECH PLANNING NEW ECONOMICS

Streamlining And Coordination Of Business Administration Proposed

Ruston, April 21.—(Special)—Streamlined plans aimed at effecting coordination and economy in the business administration department at Louisiana Tech were announced Saturday by Prof. Burton R. Risinger, dean of the school of business administration and economics at the college.

Under the new administrative program of the departmeht all work in the fields of instruction embracing accounting, business, marketing and management and secretarial science formerly separated into divisions under the department of business administration will be administered by Dr. Leo Herbert, head of the department, assisted by Glenn L. Hodge, professor of business administration, officials stated.

In making the announcement of the new administrative plan, Dean Risinger pointed out that all the fields of instruction in the department are closely related, thus making it essential that members of the teaching staff in the department work in close cooperation in order to produce well qualified graduates as leaders in the business world.

Officials of the college emphasized that the new administrative plan does not involve any changes in curricula or course offerings in the department, nor will it affect the professorial rankings of any members of the teaching staff. Majors in each field of instruction in the department will be offered as before, with the bachelor of science degree in business administration granted at the time of graduation as has been the policy at Tech for several years.

The new administrative setup also will permit more leeway in cross teaching in the department for the two-year course in secretarial science being inaugurated at the college and likewise for courses to be offered in an air force clerk-typist program expected to be activated soon at Louisiana Tech, officials declared.

When a roosting wild turky is attacked by a horned owl, it will duck its head and flip its tail over its back. This often causes the owl to slip off, allowing the turkey time to dive to safety.

SCOUT CIRCUS TO BE STAGED

More Than 2,000 Actors Expected To Be In Show At Gentry Arena

Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts, and Scout leaders of the Ouachita Valley Boy Scout Council will stage a gala Scout circus in West Monroe on Saturday, May 5. More than 2,000 actors are expected to participate in the Scout's own show to be conducted at Gentry's Arena.

A. B. Clarkson, council president and general chairman of the circus, has announced that every district of the 15-parish council has a large part on the circus program and every Scout and Cub will be expected to participate.

The show will be the largest Scout show ever presented in northeast Louisiana and will feature clowns, Indians, pioneers, and many other events of interest to Scouts and the general public. Many of the events will feature some of the important skills which are taught in scouting's important citizenship-training program.

Scouts of the central district will present a pioneering event consisting of building a pioneer stockade, which will include blockhouses, fences, gates, and observation towers. Other events will include a first aid event, featuring a demonstration of scout first aid for a series of accidents which will happen in various parts of the arena; an Indian event featuring the construction of an Indian village of teepees and totem poles, and Scouts doing Indian dances; a bicycle ballet by three troops from West Monroe; a parade of storybook characters by all Cub Scouts in the council; signaling demonstration by Scouts of the northern Scout district; a camping event featuring the erection of tents, setting up of campsites, and carrying out general camp activities; a Negro Scout event; a grand entry; a grand finale; and clown events throughout the show.

All Scouts and Cubs in the council are now busily engaged preparing themselves for the big show. Each unit leader has his detailed instructions, and equipment is being prepared for all show properties. Boys are also busy selling tickets so they can win some of the prizes being offered by the Scout office for ticket sales.

Scouts will report to Gentry's arena Saturday, May 5, before 4:00 p.m. At this time, a complete dress rehearsal is to be staged. Supper will then be served at the arena to all Scouts, Cubs, and leaders and the circus will begin promptly at 7:30.

Assisting Clarkson in directing the circus are Ted Dollar, Jonesboro; J. C. Crawford, Monroe; Father Richard Swift, Winnsboro; and J. W. Webster, Monroe. Additional men are now being recruited for some of the important positions in carrying out the big circus program. Event directors are: Bicycle ballet, W. G. Haynes, Jr., West Monroe; Cub Scouts, Mark Ringheim, Monroe; Negro Scouts, I. B. January, Monroe; Indians, Ben Rush, Ruston; Pioneers, W. W. Stevens, Monroe; camping, Doc Farrar, Dodson; first aid, Leon Beasley, Holly Ridge; signaling, W. A. Sabin, Bastrop; and clowns, George Whitlow, Monroe.

LEADING MASON TO SPEAK HERE

R. Bruce Brannon, Principal Speaker At York Rite Friendship Meet

R. Bruce Brannon, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Marshall, Tex., and a past grand master of the Grand Lodge of Texas, A. F. and A. M., will be the principal speaker at the Eleventh Annual York Rite Friendship meeting to be held at the Masonic Temple in Monroe at seven-thirty Tuesday night, April 24.

Reverend Brannon has an interesting background, and an enviable reputation as a speaker. For three years, from January, 1943 to December, 1945 he was on active duty as chaplain with the U. S. navy. During this period he served as station chaplain of the U. S. Coast Guard Training Station, Groton, Conn.; as ship's chaplain of the naval transport, U. S. S. Republic; later as base chaplain, U. S. Naval Base, Banika, Russell Islands, British Solomon Islands; and as base chaplain, Noumea, New Calidonia. He is still in the naval reserve.

During his ministry he has been pastor of the First Presbyterian Church at Laredo, Tex.; then at Hillsboro, later at Commerce, and for the past two years has been pastor of the First Presbyterian Church at Marshall.

With his other interests he has been active in the Masonic order. He was grand master of Masons in Texas in 1947, and is presently a member of the grand lodge committee on Masonic education and service. He is a past master of Laredo Lodge, a life member of Hillsboro Lodge, and a dual member of Marshall Lodge; past high priest of Hillsboro chapter, a member of Hillsboro council past commander of Hillsboro commandery, a member of Karem Temple, A. A. O. N. M. S., a member of Dallas consistory 32 degrees K. C. C. H., and a member of St. Timothy Conclave, order of Red Cross of Constantine, at Fort Worth. While his primary Masonic interest has been in the symbolic lodges, his activity in the York Rite orders, over two of which he has presided, is indicative of the high regard he holds for the chapter, council and commandery, and is the reason for his selection as the speaker for this year's friendship meeting.

R. BRUCE BRANNON

Due to the sustained interest in the York Rite, Monroe chapter has been the largest Royal Arch chapter in Louisiana. With the formation of West Monroe chapter number 93, which received a charter last week from Grand High Priest Chester B. Owen, of Leesville, Monroe chapter will lose some members, and drop to second in the state, numerically, but Royal Arch activity will benefit as a result of the work in West Monroe chapter.

Monroe commandery, too, has been the largest in the state for several years; moreover the portrayal of the ritual has been of the highest order. In 1947 Henry C. Hartman and Barney L. Mulhern, who were then grand commander and inspector general respectively, presented a beautiful altar Bible to grand commandery, with the stipulation that the commandery making the highest grade on annual inspection should be awarded custody of the Bible for the ensuing year. Monroe commandery has won this award every year since the custom was instituted.

Tuesday nights meeting is planned for all Master Masons. Ater the program light refreshments will be served in the social rooms.

EVANGELIST ADDRESSES CAPACITY CROWD AT TECH

Here is part of the crowd that gathered at Louisiana Tech to hear Evangelist Billy Graham speak in Howard auditorium at the college in Ruston. Loud speakers carried the address to hundreds of others who sat in chairs on the lawn outside the building and to many who were seated in the Little Theatre adjacent to the auditorium.

Angelo Patri

Our Children

SEVENTEEN

The girl of 17 has some very personal feelings about people and things; about other girls; about boys; parties, plans for the future as well as for tomorrow. Half woman, half child, she is like a weather vane in the springtime, swinging now northward toward the dignity and responsibility of womanhood, now southward back to the warmth and comfort of childhood.

Yet this girl's problems are real and pressing. She is puzzled about many things and there are few to whom she can go to ask questions and be certain of candid and friendly answers. What shall she do about going to college? Should she get a job for a year and save some money to help pay her way? Nobody at home has said anything about it yet and graduation is coming.

What about sex? It is very complex. Should she allow a boy to kiss her goodnight in payment for a pleasant evening? Should she invite an escort into the house when he brings her home after a dance? How about petting in the car? What's wrong about, if it is wrong? Many girls and boys do it.

There are questions too, about associates. There are many kinds of young people in the senior class in high school. Some are good students, clean, upstanding young people but they live in the wrong neighborhood, their families do not mix with the families of those of the more prosperous. One of the boys is very attractive, a top student, a star in the art class. She would like to know him better but —would he fit in?

All these questions and more rise to be answered by every schoolgirl in her teens. Lately I have discovered a book that in opinion should be the teen-age girl's good friend. It is done with complete understanding of the girls who are to read it.

There are good stories in it, ones the girls will enjoy reading. There is sound advice in it but it is so wisely given that any 17-year-old will read it happily. If there is a daughter of 17 in the family, or one just going to be, this would be an excellent gift book for her. It is: The Seventeen Reader, edited by Bryna Ivens.

There is a rich treasury of books which every child should read. Dr. Patri gives a list of more than 50 books for all ages in his leaflet P-8, "A Book List." To obtain a copy send ten cents to him, c-o this paper P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

HARPER URGING SAFER DRIVING

Municipal Judge Says 49 Per Cent Of Deaths Caused By Speeding

A strong plea for safer driving, particularly curbing of speeding, was issued yesterday by Municipal Judge W. M. Harper.

In a letter to the editor of the World, Judge Harper pointed out that 49 per cent of the deaths and 39 per cent of injuries during 1950 were the result of speeding.

Judge Harper's letter is as follows:

"A breakdown study of statistics just released revealing 35,500 persons killed and 1,799,800 injured in motor vehicular accidents during the year 1950 is both shocking and disgraceful.

"Forty-nine per cent of the total deaths and 39 per cent of total injuries were the result of speeding. Ten per cent of deaths and 27 per cent of injuries were from vehicles not having right-of-way at intersections (which includes running red lights and stop signs). Eighteen per cent of deaths and eight per cent of injuries were by vehicles moving on wrong side of street or road. Other contributing causes to this staggering result were:

"Cutting in.

"Passing on curve or hill,

"Passing on wrong side,

"Failing to signal or giving wrong signals,

"Driving off the road or street,

"Reckless driving.

"Now, the question is, what are we going to do about it? Doubtlessly no more than jump into the family automobile and go speeding on, unmoved and unconcerned.

"Year after year these warning signals are sent up without avail, and we rush heedlessly on to such fate as our reckless destiny may hold,—some to beds of pain, others to premature graves. But wherever our mad rush may land us, let us remember: We were timely warned!"

Presbyterians Meet At Pollock

Seven attended from Northeast State College: Hugh L. Bradshaw, president of the local W. F.; Helen Crosby, Bastrop, vice-president of the local W. F.; Patricia Hall, Bastrop; Valerie Madden, Bastrop; Mary Lou Porter, Bastrop; Miss Ann Mickel, student worker; Robert Freeman, minister to youth.

Hugh L. Bradshaw was elected vice-moderator of the Synod's council.

Other officers who were installed on Sunday morning to serve for the coming year were: Miss June Matthews, L. S. U. moderator; Miss June McCarthy, S. L. I., clerk; Miss Christine O'Neal, Louisiana Tech, treasurer.

Calf roping, bareback riding, and bull riding, in addition to the girls' barrel race and a calf scramble, will be on the program for the two-day event at Gentry's Arena.

The traditional rodeo parade will proceed through the downtown areas of the Twin Cities Friday, May 18, beginning at 3:30 p.m.

DELTA COUNCIL FOR LOWER RISK

Continues Fight To Reduce Cotton Growers' Chances

Delhi, La., April 21.—(Special)—The cotton sub-committee of the Louisiana Delta council at a meeting in Delhi Monday, reviewed the many recent developments which have added greatly to cotton growers' risks, as they have attempted to meet the request to produce "at least 16 million bales of cotton in 1951.

George T. Hider, chairman of the cotton sub-committee will leave Friday April 20, for Washington where he will meet Christoph Keller, president of Louisiana Delta Council. These men along with representatives of other cotton producing states will work together toward reducing the risks of growers before harvest time.

Mr. Keller and Mr. Hider have been instructed by the council's sub-committee members to work for:

1. Elimination of ceiling price on raw cotton.

2. Stockpiling of cotton, if production is above anticipated domestic consumption plus anticipated exports plus a reasonable carry-over.

3. Setting up export allocations on basis of minimum guides. This minimum allocation to be same as figure used in arriving at the production goal. These allocations to be made on quarterly basis as well as in terms of annual figure. The committee feels that some provision should be maintained whereby allocations can be abandoned when supply merits such action.

4. Familiarizing congressional leaders and others with the danger of the present price support level based on middling ⅞" staple cotton, and suggesting that study be given to shifting the standard grade. The danger in present standard lies in greater production of cotton with shortages of labor and machinery probably meaning a longer than usual harvesting season with accompanying reduction in grades for a higher than normal proportion of the crop.

GOOD LIGHTING WILL BE SHOWN

Electrical Appliance Operation And Repair To Be Demonstrated

Members of the current electric appliance operation and repair clinic being conducted by the Ouachita Valley Vocational School are scheduled to see special demonstrations on good lighting and lamp-making at their April 24 session, according to H. P. Willis, director of the school. The clinic is scheduled to get under way at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Eva Gae Malone and A. J. "Dusty" Rhodes, both of Louisiana Power and Light Company, will handle the part of the program dealing with lighting, Willis said.

Among the points to be discussed by Mrs. Malone and Rhodes are: Basic Plans of Lighting as Applied to Seeing; Types of Fixtures and Bulbs and Their Applications in the Home; Types of Portable Lamps and Their Uses; and Homemade Lighting Equipment.

This is one of a series of meetings in the 24-hour course which is offered free of charge to appliance owners in this area. Of a two-fold nature, the first part of these meetings is normally dovoted to practical maintenance of major appliances, and the second half, to basic appliance repairs. The purpose of the clinic, which is sponsored also by local appliance dealers, is to help owners get the greatest amount of service from their appliances.

Students are learning how to install cords in electric irons, waffle irons, lamps, and other small appliances, and how to make minor repairs at home.

VFW MAKES TWO MEDAL AWARDS

H. H. Brinsmade Given Good Citizen's Ribbon; Peter Poulos Gold Emblem

At an enthusiastic and well attended meeting, Thursday night, of the Rodney J. Hobbs post, Veterans of Foreign wars, two awards were made and the post had two guests.

The first award comprised a medal for Good Citizenship, which is issued to ciitzens for outstanding community service. This award went to H. H. Brinsmade, member of the staff of the News-Star—World. This medal was presented by Post Commander Harold Martin, following a short talk by C. A. Hunt, former post commander, who said:

"In looking over the field of Monroe businessmen who have contributed greatly to the city and community, and northeast Louisiana, the members of Rodney J. Hobbs Post 1809, Veterans of Foreign wars of the United States have selected you as the most deserving for your good citizenship.

"As member of 27 years of the staff of the News-Star—World you have been endeared to many hundreds for the way you have handled news stories and publicity to their satisfaction and you have been ever cooperative in every possible way. You have joined in their sorrows, and have rejoiced at their good fortune; you have ever been patient and considerate.

"Your Jes' Ramblin' column in the Morning World is ready by thousands and is the most popular column in the paper. It is humorous, constructive and valuable to all. It makes enjoyable reading and is an asset to the paper.

"Your ready smile, courtesy and consideration have been appreciated and you have ever contributed to all that makes for good citizenship.

"So the above mentioned post of overseas veterans has decided to award you the V. F. W. good citizenship medal which will exemplify our feelings toward you and our good wishes. The V. F. W. Citizenship Medal is awarded only to those who are outstanding in community service and to one whose efforts reach the greatest number of persons."

Mr. Brinsmade quite humbly accepted the medal, which was then pinned on his lapel by Commander Harold Martin, and declared that he saw no reason in the world why he should be so honored, but that he felt that he must accept their token of appreciation in the spirit that it was bestowed. He praised Mr. Hunt for his wonderful leadership and the post for its constant efforts to contribute to good citizenship, and the public welfare.

The other award was presented to past post commander Peter Poulos and was a gold V. F. W. emblem.

Charles Netherland, commander of the Christian-Phillips post in Rayville, gave a short talk. He was accompanied to Monroe by a post member, J. W. Nelson.

Maxie Wroten stated that plans for the V. F. W. softball team were being completed and that the first practice would take place Tuesday night at the Barkdull Faulk diamond and urges all ball players to be present.

Discussion among the post members, while they were enjoying their refreshments, was pertaining to the wonderful speech delivered by Gen. Douglas MacArthur and as far as any one could tell it was just about unanimous that they were behind the general 100 per cent and thought the speech would go down in the annuals of American history as one of the greatest ever delivered.

STATE'S RETAIL SALES RISE FAST

Mounts To Record Figure Of $647 Per Capita, Bureau Shows

Washington, April 21.—(Special)—In a nine-year period the per capita retail sale in the State of Louisiana increased over 200 per cent to a record figure of $647 the bureau of the census announced today.

This figure is based on final returns of the last census of business covering 1948. In 1939 per capita sales for the state only amounted to $206.

Total retail sales for Louisiana, in 1948, amounted to $1,681,334,000. A terrific jump over the 1939 figure of $486,250,000.

The per capita average for the United States was $894, while the total sales were $130,520,548,000.

Leading the states in retail sales was New York which had over $14½ billion or the 1948 total. The low state was Nevada which had slightly over $200 million.

Among the four major regions of the country the west led in per capita sales with $1,026; the north central region was second with $977; the northeast, third, with $955; and the south, fourth, with $705.

MISS TURNER TO BE PRESENTED

Noted Contralto Of Metropolitan To Sing For Civic Music Here

The Monroe Civic Music Association will present Claramae Turner, contralto of the Metropolitan opera, Monday, April 30 at 8:15 p.m. in the North Louisiana State College auditorium.

The officers of the music association state that this should be an exceptionally fine number with which to close the most successful season that has ever been experienced by the Monroe association.

Miss Turner's appearance is said to please the most fastidious music lovers. When she appeared in Webster City, Iowa, she made another of her big hits and the performance was reported in the press as follows:

Claramae Turner mixed up a musical cocktail at Jefferson auditorium last evening, helping members of the North Central Civic Music Association celebrate the ending of a highly successful concert season.

The statuesque brunette with the flawless contralto voice first added a dash or two of Old English (17th and 18th century vintage), tossed in a goodly helping of German with just a touch of English translation, came up with some Italian, flavored it well with some 19th and 20th century French, spiced it with some well-done medium, piled on some good old American and even put in a shot of Scotch.

The resultant concoction was so pleasing to the audience that Miss Turner was brought back for five encores (really six)—the most command performances given by any of the five concert attractions of the 1949-50 season.

Miss Turner wisely opened her program with a group of English numbers, which helped tide the audience over a long period of foreign language works which were yet to come. Her first number, "Alleluia," a 17th century hymn, left little doubt in the minds of her listeners that here was an artist of the top rank. Although her next three songs, "She Never Told Her Love," by Haydn, "What Can We Poor Females Do?", by Purcell, and "If Thou Be Near," by Bach, were all outstanding and all widely different in interpretation, the old hymn, "Alleluia," stood out as the best.

Her next group of songs opened with Brahms' "Von Ewiger Liebe." Miss Turner then delighted her audience by switching from German to the well-known, gentle strains of Brahms' "Lullaby," in English. One of the liveliest of the German works was "Ich Hab in Penna einen Liebsten," by Wolf, who created a wolfish-bragging gal who boasted about the number of lovers she had, all scattered about the Italian countryside. Contrasting with this extremely fast-sung, abruptly ended number, was the dreamy "Traum Durch Die Dammerung," by Richard Strauss.

Miss Turner next displayed the interpretative ability which won her high renown in the Metropolitan and San Francisco opera field, singing the aria, "O Don Fatale," from "Don Carlo," by Verdi.

Los Angeles, April 21.—(AP)—Elliott Roosevelt's bride, Heiress Minnewa Bell Ross, was sued yesterday by her attorney for $80,000.

WHO'S WHO IN BORN YESTERDAY: Judy Holliday plays pretty, blonde and pretty dumb Billie Dawn in the riotous screen version of the Broadway hit. Also starred are William Holden and Broderick Crawford. "Born Yesterday" begins a five-day engagement at the Paramount Theater Tuesday.

'Born Yesterday,' Comedy Riot, Rates With Screen's Wittiest

Judy Holliday, William Holden, Broderick Crawford In Film

"Born Yesterday" probably the greatest success in the history of the American stage, has been transformed by Columbia Pictures into an even more wonderful motion picture. Judy Holliday recreates the role she originated in the celebrated stage play and William Holden and Broderick Crawford are also starred in the Paramount Theatre's "Born Yesterday" a mature, hilarious film that will take its place among the screen's outstanding achievements which opens a five day engagement at the Paramount starting Tuesday.

Never before has a screen comedy possessed so rich an amalgam of laugh lines, story situations and captivating characterizations. "Born Yesterday" hilariously traces the development of a blonde, beautiful - but - dumb Billie Dawn, ex - chorus girl, into a cultured, intelligent young woman. With wisdom comes new values. The girl ultimately must choose between a rich and raucous boy friend and a crusading writer who doesn't think her two mink coats much of an achievement.

It's praise enough for Miss Holliday to say that she equals, even surpasses, her droll performance in the Broadway play; the greater scope of the motion picture camera permits greater scope for Miss Holliday's happy histrionics as the brazen beauty whose knowledge covers only men and mink until she learns the alphabet from A to "L for love."

Holden appears to equal perfection as the idealistic young reporter who teaches the ex-chorine what democracy is all about and learns from her a lesson in love. Recently hailed by critics and public alike for his tremendously moving dramatic performance in "Sunset Boulevard," Holden, now contributes a beautifully conceived comedy performance in "Born Yesterday" to prove himself a master of the motion picture art.

Crawford, the echoes of whose Academy Award performance in "All the King's Men" still reverberate through Hollywood, gives in "Born Yesterday" another piece of magnificent screen mimicry, like Holden in a lighter vein. As the all - conquering junk dealer in Washington to make an undercover deal, Crawford joyously portrays a loud - mouthed, ignorant and thoroughly human tycoon, who takes a simple delight in dangling congressmen on a string. His feet hurt, but not his conscience.

George Cukor, one of Hollywood's top directors, takes brilliant advantage of dialogue of the laugh - loaded script by Albert Mannheimer, making "Born Yesterday" a joy to behold. S. Sylvan Simon produced the comedy.

'Lightning Strikes Twice' Plays Here

Can a man whom a jury has acquitted of murder ever regain his former status in the community?

Warner Bros. attempts to answer this controversial question in "Lightning Strikes Twice," the drama which begins its local engagement at the Paramount today.

Heading the star-filled cast is Richard Todd, by no means a newcomer to film audiences despite his recent movie entry, who as the sympathetic Scot in "Hasty Heart," was nominated for the Academy Award. Next came "Stage Fright," the Alfred Hitchcock thriller, and Todd's popularity reached such heights that the studio brought him to Hollywood to star in "Lightning Strikes Twice, his first American produced film.

Ruth Roman and Mercedes McCambridge, Todd's romantic interests on the screen are also comparatively new personalities who have rapidly achieved cinema fame. Among Ruth's recent film hits are "Three Secrets" and "Dallas," while Miss McCambridge won the Academy Award for her supporting role in "All the King's Men."

Zachary Scott rounds out the stellar cast as the acquitted man's associate, one of the few people in town who maintains the innocence of the outcast.

Filmed on the desert location of Victorville, California, "Lightning Strikes Twice" features Frank Conroy, Kathryn Givney, Rhys Williams and Darryl Hickman.

King Vidor directed and Henry Blanke produced the film.

In Movieland

Hollywood, April 21.—(AP)—Many Broadway personalities have a popular pastime of scoffing at Hollywood acting. Helen Hayes has served notice that she will not join in that game.

Miss Hayes is playing in "My Son, John," her first film in 16 years. She emphasizes that she didn't desert the medium because of disrespect for the movies. She just got tired of the rigors of being a glamor girl. She always said she would return to the films as a character actress, and now she has her wish.

"I had forgotten what hard work it was," she sighed. "I have been on this picture for six weeks and not yet have I had a day off. One day they told me I wouldn't have to work, but suggested that I come in for a little rehearsal. The rehearsal went so well that they suggested that I put on some makeup and do the scene. That was my day off!"

The actress added that the experience of doing a picture again was renewed her appreciation of movie acting.

"I must say that I don't sympathize with those Broadway people who condemn all film acting," she remarked. "Film actors are faced with hard work and the difficulty of sustaining a performance over a period of time and of coping with a mechanical medium.

"If actors can do that and still prompt acting jobs that move me, they've got to be good. . . ."

West coast theater men this week got a hint of what the Kefauver crime hearings did to movie business in the east. This time the cause was the arrival in San Francisco of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, which was carried by all of California's 11 television stations.

One trade paper headlined "MacArthur Video KO's L. A. B. O." (box office). The story reported slumps of 10 to 25 per cent in theater business. Another trade paper banned "M'Arthur-TV fails to dent B. O." But the story admitted that attendance was off 10 to 25 per cent in some theaters.

Both stories agreed that business was good at the Los Angeles Orpheum, which was the only theater offering the TV broadcast on its big screen. This is further evidence of what many industry thinkers have been arguing—that the theaters will have to be equipped for TV if they expect to compete with the home sets. . . .

The TV job of MacArthur's arrival was a good one, demonstrating the power of video in presenting living history. It also showed the great need for a cross-country TV hook-up, since viewers outside of California were denied an on-the-spot look at the historic occasion, just as California's millions missed his eastern appearances until films could be flown out.

Chatham High To Present Its Play

"Aunt Hettie Hits Her Stride," a hilarious comedy is to be staged in the Chatham High School auditorium on Thursday, April 26, at 8 o'clock p.m. This production of the junior class is sponsored by Mrs. Lucille McCall Patrick.

Aunt Hetty, as she is known to all, is an accentric, middle-aged spinster, who dislikes all males intensely. Fancy their amazement when Aunt Hetty arrives at Benfield "fit to kill" and announces that she has been bitten by the love bug and her "sweetie-pie" is joining her here for the wedding. The young man arrives acclaiming himself an athletic coach and saying that he has never seen Aunt Hetty.

But as all good stories end, everything is straightened out satisfactorily at the finish and Aunt Hetty is about to be led to the altar when a surprise is introduced that brings on more howls of laughter.

Everyone come and bring someone with you. We promise you an enjoyable evening.

Answer To Question No. 1

1. Not always, but it helps. Dr. Robert Genest reports that by putting patients under influence of "twilight sleep" he can tell whether they are suffering from real physical pain or from subconscious hatred or some other worry. In his enlightening book, "Psychosomatic Medicine" (Mind-Body Medicine), Dr. Franz Alexander shows that many ills formerly regarded as purely physical are due to mismanaged emotions. Our new booklet. "How to Manage Your Feelings and Emotions" may help some of your aches and pains. Sent at cost, 15 cents (coin only) plus self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Answer to Question No. 3

2. Their own sex. Psychologists Arthur Weider and Paul Noller found that 75 per cent of boys and 97 per cent of girls, from eight to ten years old, draw their own sex first. The figures are also drawn larger than those of the opposite sex. Psychologist Florence Goodenough claims that the accuracy of drawings of the human figure is, for each age, a fine test of intelligence.

Answer to uestion No. 3

3. Psychologist R. L. Newton, found that in giving a memory test—say of such numbers as 5, 3, 7, 6, 9—the testee could repeat two numbers more forward if the instructor dropped his voice on the last number. This seemed to apprise the testee that the list was ended and he was to repeat them instantly. Dropping the voice did not increase the number repeated backward. Amazing, how your voice influences people.

Want to Learn Self-Control?

How to Manage Your Feelings and Emotions is Dr. Wiggam's new illustrated booklet.

It describes clearly what happens to both your mind and body when your feelings and emotions conquer you and it also fully explains what you can do about it—how you can master your feelings and gain self-confidence.

This remarkable booklet is yours for 15 cents (in coin only). Address Dr. A. E. Wiggam care of this newspaper. Include a stamped (three-cent) self-addressed return envelope.

The global surge of favorable and adverse criticism directed at General MacArthur's speech before the joint houses of congress has much to say about the emotional aspects of his oratory.

The address was, of course, highly emotional in places as was fully demonstrated by the reaction on his hearers. For instance, there were tears and even open sobbing in the chamber when MacArthur concluded with his " 'Old soldiers never die they just fade away' . . . good bye."

And there were tears among listeners on the radio as this farewell of the famous veteran came over the air. That was the effect of the spoken word as handled by a master orator.

However, some who didn't hear the speech, but have had to base their opinion on the printed word, have been wondering whether these very intimate phrases were too emotional and somewhat on the "corny" side. Well, it perhaps is true that coming from a novice such expressions might have seemed "corny," but not when delivered by a MacArthur.

Authorities on public speaking, assaying this address, have placed MacArthur in the class of great speakers who have employed the oratorical style of the 19th century. Britain's Winston Churchill is cited as being in this classification, which is reminiscent of the days of famous speakers like William Jennings Bryan and his "cross of gold" speech.

This style or oratory depends heavily on the emotional appeal, and it calls for consummate skill if it is to be kept from becoming theatrical. Churchill is a past master of emotional speaking, as witness such famous utterances as his call to arms against Hitler in May of 1940. That was when as prime minister he told the house of commons in impassioned tones:

"I say to this house as I said to the ministers who have joined this government, I have nothing to offer but blood, toil, tears and sweat."

That was emotionalism at its peak. Yet as handled by a master like Churchill it had the effect of an electric shock on his people. They surged to the defense of their country. And this sensational appeal also swept through Allied nations and spurred them to greater efforts.

I have seen Churchill in action many times, especially in the house of commons, going back as far as 1916 when he was more or less a "lone wolf" politically in parliament. There never has been a time when opponents haven't been afraid of Churchill's uncanny skill with words, and his ability to arouse emotions.

MacArthur has the knack of emotional appeal. He used it in his address before congress.

There are some who maintain that such emotionalism has no place in public life. They insist that we should be guided by cold logic.

At first blush that sounds like an irrefutable argument. Still, while broadly speaking it is true, I think emotionalism has its place. Many of the finest acts of mankind are due to the emotional appeal.

FLASH GORDON
by MAC RABOY and DON MOORE
DALE LEARNS TO HER HORROR THAT THE MOON IS INHABITED BY A RACE OF WEIRD BEETLE-MEN. ONE OF THE CREATURES DRAGS HER INTO HIS UNDERGROUND TUNNEL, CLOSING THE TRAP DOOR BEHIND THEM.
HEARING DALE'S TERRIFIED CRY FOR HELP, FLASH LEAPS ACROSS THE CRATER FLOOR WITH TWENTY-FOOT STRIDES AND CATCHES THE HEAVY ROCK DOOR JUST BEFORE IT CLOSES.
THE BEETLE-MAN FRANTICALLY TRIES TO OPEN AN INNER DOOR LEADING INTO THE MOON'S INTERIOR. FLASH DARES NOT SHOOT HIM FOR FEAR OF HITTING DALE, BUT HE FIRES A WARNING RAY-BLAST AGAINST THE WALL.
SUDDENLY THE BEETLE-MAN RELEASES DALE. "FLASH," SHE WHISPERS. "I THINK HE WANTS TO MAKE FRIENDS. WHEN HIS ANTENNA BRUSHED MY ARM I SEEMED TO GET A TELEPATHIC MESSAGE. I BELIEVE HE'S GRATEFUL BECAUSE YOU DIDN'T SHOOT HIM."
THE MOON-MAN SEEMS TO UNDERSTAND ORDERS WHEN HIS ANTENNA IS TOUCHED. FLASH LEAVES THE OMINOUS TUNNEL FOR FUTURE EXPLORATION. HIS IMMEDIATE TASK IS TO SOLVE THE SECRET OF THE METEOR-MISSILES THAT ARE BOMBARDING THE EARTH, THREATENING IT WITH DESTRUCTION!
